

Unseasonal

Storm clouds hover above the Andover Baptist Church steeple, an omen of the unseasonal weather during the week which has seen snow, rain over-cast skies and low temperatures.

Communication Gap Hinders New Plans For Bancroft

By Susan Rand

Angered because they didn't know about a new grouping plan for some students at Bancroft School, the School Committee rebuked school administrators for not asking for their approval of the plan before moving towards its implementation.

At issue on Tuesday evening was whether youngsters in grades one through three would participate in what Assistant Superintendent Lois Haslam explained is the Bancroft developmental primary unit.

The plan attempts to group students in classes based not on their age but on their learning levels. A fraction of the students' time might be spent with others a grade ahead or a grade behind. For example in Bancroft's Loft two and three, or second and third grades, students would meet together each morning in eight homerooms instead of the four homerooms now set up for second graders and the four third-grade homerooms. The new plan also has students learning social studies and science in a new integrated program, instead of as separate lessons.

Towards the end of the two-hour exchange some administrators apologized to committee members, who later called the two-hour discussion "a very positive experience" — to the laughter of those present, there were angry remarks made at the beginning of the deliberations.

Much of the discussion about the Bancroft plan pertained to how decisions were made to schedule the program for next year, with many of the substantive questions about the actual structure and content of the classes put off until the next committee meeting, on Tuesday, April 23, when the so-called developmental primary unit will again be discussed.

"The concern I have is that it appears to me that the proposal for the future has been accelerated to the present — without School Committee discussion," said Committeeman Richard E. Neal, the first of the five School Committee members to voice frustration over their lack of knowledge about the program. Some said they had heard from school parents concerned about the new developmental groupings.

"I'm embarrassed, frankly, to sit as a School Committee member and hear these things for the first time tonight," said Chairman Donald W. Robb.

But Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert's retort to Robb was that he was "embarrassed for different reasons." He went on to say that "one-twelfth of a student's time is going to be multi-aged. I think we are regressing as an educational system. We can beat something to death. Here we are appalled as something that is so small."

Back in February the committee discussed, for the first time this year, a proposal to start multi-aged classes at Bancroft. Projections at that meeting showed that the new form of grouping might possible take place in the 1985-86 school year or in 1986-87. The change in grades one through three is the first phase of a three-year program to introduce multi-aging in the town's school system.

A plan to inform Bancroft parents about the new system was prepared by Bancroft Principal Iora Alexander which included letters sent to parents informing them of parent meetings scheduled to be held in homes throughout the Bancroft area this month and into May and June. The letters were to be mailed out on Monday but were held back by Alexander.

Committee member Susan T. Poore was critical of the plan to contact parents before the School Committee discussed the matter.

"I do not think that basic curriculum changes in the system should go first to small coffee hours in living rooms and then to the School Committee," said Poore. "There is a link missing."

War And Media Topic For Forum

The Phillips Academy history department's Friday Forum series welcomes NBC News General Manager Rebecca Sobel who will speak on "War and the Media" in George Washington Hall at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Before joining NBC News, Sobel played a wide variety of journalistic roles, from cub reporter in Los Angeles to anchorwoman for PBS. In 1979, NBC Inc. hired her as a network correspondent covering the White House during the Carter administration.

Following a two-year stint in London as a war correspondent, Sobel returned to New York to report a magazine news program called "First Camera," for which she received an Emmy.

Friday Forum regularly brings eminent and influential speakers to the Andover community for the benefit of faculty, students and guests. Past speakers have included Boston Globe Deputy Editorial Chief Kirk Scharfenberg and Harvard University Professor Alan Brinkley.

Parking Will Be Iffy

Park Street parking will be an on-again, off-again situation as work on the town's parking lot there continues through June.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said the lot will be usable some days but advised checking the lot each day before parking there. A sidewalk along Park Street will not be disturbed, he added, so shoppers will have access to the businesses behind the lot.

"This is going to help them," Mahony said of Andover shoppers looking for parking spaces, "if they can hold on until it is finished."

Town Manager Named To State Commission

Governor Michael Dukakis has named Andover's town manager to a special state commission.

In a March 21 letter to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, Governor Dukakis informed the manager that he had been appointed as a member of the Special Commission on Collective Bargaining and Disputes Resolutions for Municipal Employees.

The governor wrote that Mahony must take his oath of office within the next three months, or his appointment will be revoked.

Licenses Permits Approved

During their first meeting of the post-town meeting season, held at Bartlet Street town offices, the Board of Selectmen Monday night approved several licenses and permits.

Abraham Goldstein of Boston received an auctioneer's license for 7 to 11 p.m. May 13 and May 14, for auctions to be held at the Sheraton-Rolling Green on Lowell Street.

The Christian Formation Center on River Road received one-day, all-alcoholic licenses for a retirement party, 5 p.m. to midnight May 3; a dinner, 5 p.m. to midnight May 4; a dinner dance, 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. May 11; and four wedding receptions, 2 to 9 p.m. May 12, 1 to 8 p.m. May 18, 3 to 10 p.m. May 25, and 3 to 10 p.m.

May 26.

Bay State Gas Co. received permission, retroactively, for emergency road repairs completed last month in Summer Street at Applecrest, Summer at Avon, 25 Strawberry Hill Road, 221 Highland Road, 6 Stevens St., 11 Argilla Road, 40 Beacon St., 39 Oriole Drive, and 93 Reservation Road.

And the Yankee Golden Retriever Club received permission to hold a 10K road race starting at 10 a.m. May 5 at the Christian Formation Center on River Road. The course will cover River Road to Forest Hill Drive, High Plain Road to Haggetts Pond Road, Bailey Road to Fiske Street, and back to River Road.

To Observe Education Bill Anniversary

Chapter I/Title I will celebrate its 20th birthday in April of 1985. Massachusetts has designated the week of April 8 as Chapter I Birthday Week. The Andover Chapter I schools will celebrate the occasion by having the children work on special projects in the classrooms and will end the week with a birthday party.

The legislation that made Chapter I programs possible was signed on April 15, 1965, by President Lyndon B. Johnson. Since then Chapter I/Title I has given millions of students additional help in learning basic skills.

Educator Testifies In Washington

"Most teachers are eager to improve but don't have support; most administrators are willing to help them but don't have time; we have a renewed public commitment to improve education, but the public's patience is limited. Now is the time for Congress to renew its own commitment to our nation's schools by continuing to fund the National Institute of Education," David P. Crandall, executive director of the Network, Inc., in Andover, recently advised the House Subcommittee on Select Education. Crandall had been invited to testify to the effectiveness of the Department of Education's National Institute of Education (NIE) when the committee met to consider that agency's reauthorization.

An example of the programs supported by the NIE are the 20 educational labs and centers, for which dozens of agencies, colleges and universities across the country are currently competing. In late March the Network applied to the NIE for the $10 million, five-year contract to be the educational laboratory for the northeast region. In collaboration with the State University of New York at Buffalo, the Network is also the recent recipient of an NIE $15,000 planning grant to prepare a proposal to become the center on effective elementary education.

Taft Awarded Degree

Cheryl Taft of Argilla Road, Andover, was among the 183 Western New England College undergraduate and graduate students awarded degrees recently, according to college president Dr. Beverly White Miller.

Taft, a graduate of Andover High School, received a bachelor of science degree with a major in computer information systems. She served as a member of the chorus and the computer club and was placed on the 1984 fall semester Dean's List with a grade point average of 3.60.

She is the daughter of Walter and Henrietta Taft.

Western New England College is a private, coeducational institution offering more than 30 undergraduate majors in professional and liberal studies and graduate degree programs in accounting, business administration, engineering and law to more than 6,900 full-time and part-time students each year.

On Dean's List

Ellen Keefe, a junior at Holy Cross College, Worcester, has been named to the Dean's list for the first semester of the 1984-85 academic year.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Keefe of Andover, she is majoring in history.

Founded in 1843, Holy Cross is the oldest Catholic College in New England. It is a coeducational, Jesuit, liberal arts college, with an enrollment of 2,500 students.

Students Experience Life In Group Homes For Film

Andover High School students learned first hand what life is like in area group homes and a shelter for the homeless when they visited three such residences to make a film for a social studies class.

The idea for the project originated with Andover State Rep. Sue Tucker who has been working with Lawrence residents on the matter of housing deinstitutionalized persons and those who have nowhere to live. Tucker is a member of the Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative, where talk of teaching students problem-solving techniques gave her the idea to introduce 20 Andover students to the complexities of the community housing shortage.

Students in a sociology and a communications class at Andover High visited Fidelity House, a group home on Bartlet Street; Lazarus House, a homeless shelter in Lawrence, and Pegasus House, a home for drug and alcohol rehabilitation of youngsters aged 15 to 19, with Tucker. They interviewed the residents of the three homes and some of the staffers for the half-hour film now in the final stages of production.

Social studies teacher Hartley Peakes told THE TOWNSMAN that the film will be shown on Andover's cable television station some time in May. He is editing the film, which also features a segment on the budgetary and political implications of group housing, done by Tucker.

"I think it was a great experience for the kids," said Tucker. "They were all very impressed with the quality of the services they saw."

On Dean's List

Vale History To Be Traced

By Virginia Lopez Begg.

Ballardvale, named for a descendant of one of Andover's founders over 300 years ago, will be the subject of a program at the Andover Historical Society on Sunday, April 14, at 2:30 p.m. Entitled "Ballardvale in its Heyday" and presented by Ruth Sharpe of the Ballardvale Branch Library, the program will include many interesting and little-known facts about this historic area of Andover. There will be a small admission fee and seating is on a first-come basis.

A highlight of this program will be the unveiling of Bancroft T. Haynes' 1881 oil painting of Ballardvale village, colorfully depicting its homes, churches and other buildings. Recently donated by Memorial Hall Library, the painting has just been professionally cleaned and prepared for exhibit.

In the late 18th century, Timothy Ballard, sixth in descent from William Ballard, owned not only much of the land in this area, but also the "privileges" of the Shawsheen River. These privileges were invaluable in an age when water power was the only power available for mills — the mills which ground flour, made gunpowder and, from the beginning of the 19th century, began to work the looms of the textile industry.

In 1836, as news of the great experiment down the road in Lowell reverberated around the world, three Andover entrepreneurs, John Marland, Abraham Gould and Mark H. Newman, bought the land and river "privileges" of Timothy Ballard and created a mill and village called Ballard Vale.

Although woolen cloth, especially the white flannels so characteristic of gracious living in that era, was the primary product, other textiles were also manufactured. There was even an attempt, for a time, to grow mulberry trees, raise silk worms and produce silk cloth in the great "silk bubble" which swept the eastern United States.

Other manufacturing operations also located in Ballardvale. The blue-decorated stoneware, so sought after today by antique collectors, was made by the Ballard Vale Stoneware Manufacturing Co. for ten years. A representative collection of this stoneware is on view at the Andover Historical Society. Other products, such as locomotives and steel files, were also manufactured by other companies.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit educational institution open to both members and the public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the society office Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Troop 79 Has Busy Month

March was another busy month for Boy Scout Troop 79. The three main activities included a winter survival training course in Maine, a Court of Honor and a hike in the Lynn woods.

The Okpik winter survival training course was held March 1-3. Ten scouts and three leaders left for the John Donnel Environmental Center in the Maine National High Adventure Area, located north of Bangor in Howland, Maine, on Friday morning. Arriving about 6 p.m. at the base lodge, they spent the evening listening to instructors talk about proper dress for winter camping, how to stay warm, proper diet and proper conservation practices. They were awakened at 6 a.m. on Saturday for an early breakfast and then ski instruction. They left on skis for their campsite about 11 a.m., carrying pack frames. Stopping along the trail for a quick lunch, they arrived at their campsite about 2 p.m. and set up camp. The afternoon was spent skiing. The scouts prepared their supper using PEAK I stoves (backpacking stoves). Most of the troop went for a moonlight ski outing before bedding down for the night. It was up early for breakfast, breaking camp and skiing back to the main lodge for lunch. Then it was time to pack up gear and head for home.

The Court of Honor was held March 8. There was one merit badge awarded, Personal Management, and many skills awards. Five scouts received the Camping Skill Award, one the Citizenship Skill Award, seven earned the Communications Skill Award, and one the Hiking Skill Award. There were five rank advancements, two for the rank of Scout and the others for Tenderfoot.

The Lynn Woods hike, on March 17, was an 11-mile adventure. The hike started at 9:30 a.m. and ended at 2 p.m. The trail went around a small lake, over hills and through heavily wooded areas. There were a number of interesting sights, including an almost 100-foot metal tower. The scouts passed a stone tower more than 100 years old. There was a spectacular view of Boston and the Bay Area from the top of one of the hills. The scouts were able to go into a cave that spiraled down about 200 feet. Legend has it that the cave was dug by a person who devoted his whole life to digging the cave in hopes of finding hidden pirate treasure.

Boys are always welcome at Troop 79's meetings on Friday at St. Robert's Church at 7 p.m.

Museum Looks For Spinsters

The Museum of American Textile History is looking for spinsters. No, the museum is not remaking the movie "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" or opening a new mail order bride business.

Instead, the museum is looking for the kind of spinsters who like to spin yarn on their spinning wheels for "The Great New England Spinning Bee," highlight of the museum's 13th annual Sheep Shearing Festival on Sunday, May 19.

Spinsters from throughout New England will set up their colorful wheels on the Old North Andover Common to recreate the 18th century spinning bees held on Boston Common.

Spinsters may contact Debby Horowitz, festival coordinator, at the museum, 800 Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover, MA 01845.

The museum will be open with free admission throughout the festival. Guides will offer free tours of the current exhibits, "Factory Labor: Shaping Work in America" and "Negro Cloth: Northern Industry and Southern Slavery."

IRA

Have you taken your tax break for 1984?
Plan your future today with an IRA.

If you earn at least $2000 per year, you are eligible to invest $2000 in an IRA. With an IRA you accomplish two things:

1. Lower your taxable income
 2. Plan for your retirement
- The following investments, among many others qualify as IRA's:

- Certificates of Deposit
- Money Market Funds
- Stocks
- Annuities
- Bonds
- Mutual Funds
- Real Estate Limited Partnerships
- Government Securities

You owe it to yourself to explore the full range of options available to you.

Baystate Financial Services is New England's largest, full service financial planning brokerage. As a brokerage, we will search the financial marketplace to meet your retirement planning needs. We can also help you with TOTAL financial planning.

To make the right IRA decision, you need to have the right choices.

When you look into opening an Individual Retirement Account at BayBanks, you'll find you have a number of choices. Plus all the information you need to choose the one that's right for you.

And you'll also find that a BayBanks IRA is a good investment for people of virtually any age.

For one thing, you don't need to deposit the full $2,000. You can start a BayBanks IRA with as little as $100, and add to it whenever you want.

You can also choose your own term. With a BayBanks Time Deposit IRA, you can choose anything from a three-month money market investment to fixed-rate investments with rates guaranteed from three months to eight years.

Or maybe you're the type of person who wants to invest in stocks or bonds or even options. If so, our self-directed Brokerage IRA is just right for you.

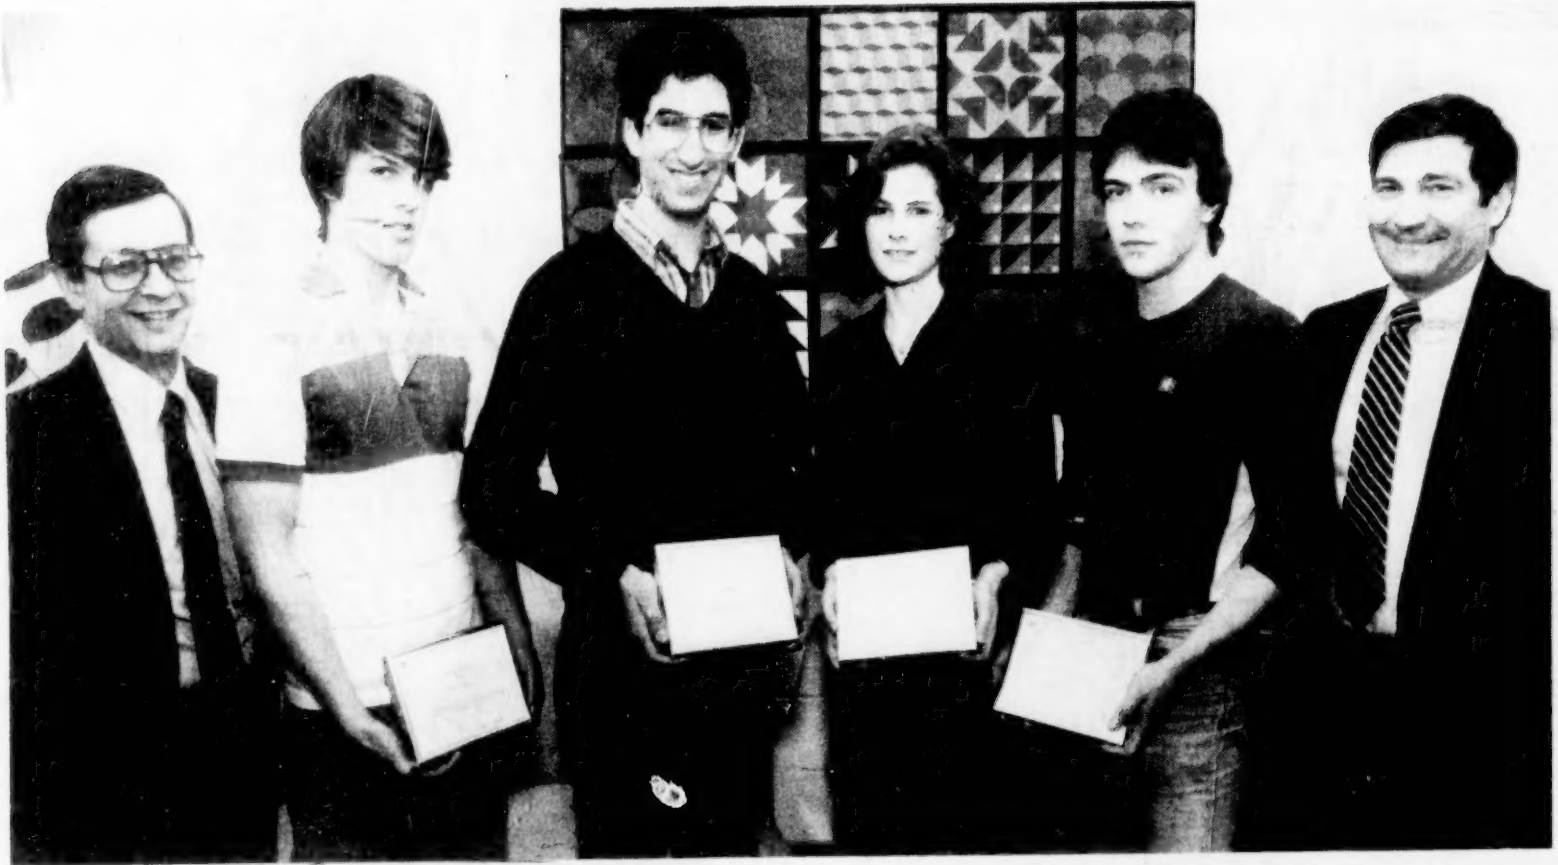

In short, we have many choices for you. So the smartest investment you can make is a BayBanks IRA—the same choice Bobby Orr made.

BayBanks

A BayBanks IRA. It's one smart investment.

It's not too late to save on taxes. To make it even easier to open a BayBanks IRA, selected offices will be open Friday, April 12 until 8 p.m., Saturday, April 13 until 4 p.m., and Monday, April 15 from noon to 4 p.m. Call for the location nearest you: BayBank Harvard Trust and BayBank Boston, 648-8330; BayBank Merrimack Valley, 475-3620; BayBank Middlesex, 387-1808; BayBank Norfolk Trust, 461-1740.

Withdrawals of Time Deposits before maturity require the bank's consent and are subject to a substantial penalty. If you withdraw funds from your IRA prior to age 59½, you may be subject to IRS penalty charges. Members FDIC.

Andover High Scholars

Consultants Visit Doherty

As part of the ninth grade economics course, Hewlett Packard and the Andover Savings Bank have supplied four consultants who have visited, on a weekly basis, the classes of Skip Eiserman and Pat Finnigan of Doherty Junior High School in Andover.

Activities, simulations and exploring the real world of business have been an integral part of this program. The four classes involved in this program were given a comprehensive tour of the Hewlett Packard facilities on March 2, 27 and 28.

Kris Kalaijian, Hewlett Packard consultant to Eiserman's class, gave good reviews to a class session where she combined the DOPEC activity and "The Last Loaf of Bread" activity.

Pat Gall, Hewlett Packard consultant working with Finnigan, started her stock market activity by having students sign a promissory note for $5000. The teacher will act as a stockbroker and must sign transactions before they are official. The class also enjoyed simulation trading on the floor of the stock exchange.

Governor To Address Students

As prom time nears Andover High School students will hear the oft repeated warning that drinking and driving don't mix from Massachusetts Gov. Michael S. Dukakis.

The governor will speak at the J. Everett Collins Center, at the high school, on Thursday, April 15, at a 40 minute assembly beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Following his lecture Dukakis will meet with the student officers of Students Against Drunk Driving, also known as SADD. School health coordinator Ruby Easton told THE TOWNSMAN that Dukakis has asked that there be no adults present when he meets with the SADD officers.

To Host Foreign Student

John and Sandra Scammell, 7 Twin Brook Circle, Andover, have been named host family of Olaf Doerffer from Cologne, West Germany, who will study at Andover High School, beginning in September.

Olaf and the Scammells are being sponsored by the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS) Scholarship Foundation of Greenwich, Conn. The foundation organizes educational travel experiences for young people from all parts of the world.

"We are delighted to have been the catalyst for such an exciting adventure," said Mrs. Sandra Kiley, the area counselor of the foundation. "We are confident that everyone will benefit from this marvelous experience of first-hand learning about other people and other cultures. There are other foreign students who would like a similar opportunity, but we need more families like the Scammells who are ready to take a leap of faith and welcome a student to their homes."

For more information, contact Mrs. Kiley or the AIFS Scholarship Foundation, 100 Greenwich Avenue, Greenwich, Conn.

South Church Group Helps Haitians Help Themselves

By Susan Rand

On a one-week trip to the Caribbean nation of Haiti a group of South Church members found that the best way they could help those living there was to teach them how to help themselves.

Characterized as a "missionary graveyard," Haiti has been a temporary home for countless church groups who have long since left the island. Their abandoned machines were wonderful — when they worked. But the Haitians were never taught to fix what the missionaries built and when they broke they were never fixed.

These South Church travelers returned home with different ideas about how to help the people of Haiti. Says South Church member Babbie Schick, "the solutions have to come from Haitians who own their own destiny."

Making the trip to Haiti were South Church parishioners Elaine and Tony Russo, Joanne Coburn, Gina Grogean, Bart and Babbie Schick, Laurie Southworth, Lois Gould, Greg Martin, Dave and Barbara Coffman, Dale Lattanzio and Pastor Westy Egmont. The Rev. Philip Bauman, from Clinton; Bill and Annette Bryce, from Manchester and Jack Kallis, from Hingham also traveled to Haiti with the South Church group. They left Andover on Feb. 27 and returned on March 6.

Schick, Coburn, Grogean and the Russos talked with THE TOWNSMAN about their week in Haiti.

Very few of the travelers expected this hot, dry country to look as they found it. Some of the sights they saw were, as Tony Russo told of one ride through a waterfront slum, "beyond my expectations of horror. The street was full of ruts with sewerage in the ruts. People were on the sidewalk preparing food next to the sewerage and bathing out of buckets. Bugs were in the water that ran alongside the roads, which was covered with a green scum. It was one place I wasn't too anxious to get out of the jeep."

But though life, for many, seemed bleak Gina Grogean remembers feeling great hope for the people of Haiti, mixed in with the desolation.

An unexplainable incongruity that stayed with Joanne Coburn was the sight of shoe shine stands on every corner of Haiti's streets, roadways that were caked with mud.

Their busy week in Haiti included visits to a tuberculosis hospital for children, an orphanage, a hospital run by Mother Theresa's Sisters of Charity and medicine clinics in the countryside.

Grogean, a physician, found the medicine in Haiti much more basic than she had imagined. Schooled as an anesthesiologist, she figured she could volunteer her services. But, she said, public health issues such as clean water and sanitation systems must be addressed before the treating of individual disease can even be considered.

"I have no illusions that we were having any long-term effects," she explained. "What we did was get an understanding of what the problems were."

Often called the poorest country in the world, Haitians live on an average yearly wage of $175 to $200. With more than half of the Caribbean nation's citizens under 16 years of age the challenge to feed the island's inhabitants becomes more real each year. Haiti is located off the coast of Florida and is near Cuba and Jamaica.

A majority of the island's people call voodoo their religion. A belief which honors the powers of evil, voodoo, which includes turning your enemies into zombies, is a practice welcomed by the repressive government of Jean-Claude "Baby Doc" Duvalier. Schick said distant drum rolls, often associated with voodoo, could be heard all over the island.

The Missions Committee of South Church voted to financially support Jean Thomas, who runs a mission in Fondes-Blancs. Schick did not want to say how much money the church will spend there each year. Besides training pastors to minister to the community Thomas is training his neighbors to build a clean water irrigation system and reforest their land.

Groups of South Church members will probably travel to Haiti twice a year to help with work projects, said Schick. This June the senior high school youth group may make the trip, she added.

Other missions supported by the South Church include a couple running a medical mission in Angola, a couple translating the bible in Peru and a ministry in this country, based in Colorado Springs, that ministers to foreign students studying here.

"Haiti is not a place where you can go and be neutral. You either say 'get me out of here,' " explains Schick, or a sense of responsibility and the need to help takes over and one asks "why is it like this?" Depressed for two weeks after returning to her North Andover home, Schick says, "the human need goes beyond words. At Mother Theresa's hospital you see someone you have been talking to turn over and they are dead."

Work with needy persons in Third World countries is nothing new to Schick, who is the missions coordinator at South Church. She has made a number of trips south with the church and on her own. In fact, she and husband, Bart Schick, plan to open a local shop called Mission Traders where they will sell goods from South and Central American countries such as Haiti, Ecuador and Peru.

When Schick talks about Haiti she is quick to rattle off statistics of life in the land. She knows the facts about the places she visits, but her talk quickly turns to stories of the hard life she has seen. It is clear what she has witnessed has had a profound effect on Babbie Schick.

Bart Schick will show a slide presentation he put together about the Haiti trip on Friday, May 3, at the South Church Haitian festival which will feature a creole dinner and steel band as well as discussion by those who traveled to the Caribbean nation. Tickets for the evening celebration are available at the church.

Russo said he felt more at peace with himself in Haiti than ever before. There, he said, he saw what he calls "true christianity" at work.

"True christianity gives a person a sense of dignity and who he is," he explained. "The truer we are with God and ourselves the better we have for dignity with ourselves."

Since he's been back in Andover his wants are simpler, Russo confessed.

"Things aren't that important when people are starving," he said. "It is a whole new approach to how we waste our money."

Four of the South Church members who traveled to Haiti discuss their week there. They are, from left, Joanne Coburn, Tony Russo, Elaine Russo and Gina Grogean.

Richard Yee displays his genius for choosing the right moment as a thunderstorm rolls over Yarmouth.

Yee Exhibit Opens May 10

"The Selected Works of Richard Yee," a black-and-white photographic exhibit, opens in the Mifflin Gallery of the Peabody Museum of Salem on May 10.

Yee's award-winning photography contains an "extensive portfolio which has enabled us to include marine photographs, landscapes and studies of people in China. Some were taken here on the North Shore, others during Yee's travels to Hong Kong and China," reports Margie Krebs, curator of the Mifflin Gallery.

Yee was born in China in 1936. In 1952 he came to the United States to join his parents who were then owners of the New China Restaurant in Haverhill. Yee and his wife, Connie, eventually opened the China Blossom Restaurant in North Andover, which they continue to operate.

Yee's list of awards includes the Boston Globe's annual photo contest for three consecutive years (1955-57), the 1959 winner of the All-Army Photo Contest and the winner of the Latimer Award of the Boston Camera Club in 1963, 1964 and 1965. He was ranked the second exhibitor of the world in 1968 by the Photographic Society of America. His works are in the permanent collections of the Seattle Museum of Fine Arts and the Mariners' Museum, Newport News, Virginia.

The exhibit will be open through February 1986.

Telephone Volunteers Needed

Dorothy Winn, coordinator of the Andover Council on Aging, requests more volunteers register to serve in the Telephone Reassurance Program.

These volunteers provide an invaluable service to older persons who live alone and are housebound. The telephone serves as a link between that person and the outside world and can provide the difference between life and death. The volunteer agrees to make a daily call to the older person. The commitment is completed when the phone is answered and all is well. If not answered, further contacts are made by phone with community services such as the police and the senior center so help can be sent. Such a service is essential to Andover. Besides the possibility of saving a life, it also documents the needs of the elderly, pointing out areas where Meals on Wheels should be sent in or where comprehensive health care and transportation are required.

Training for this volunteer job can be done on an individual basis. Telephone Gwen Smith, volunteer coordinator at the senior center, if you can find the time for a two-minute telephone conversation which may save a life. Call the senior center on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Women & Pre-Nuptial Agreements

If you are contemplating marriage or remarriage, you may be concerned that you will risk the eventual loss of some or all of your property or other assets in the event of a dissolution of your marriage by death or divorce. You may also be uneasy about sharing these concerns with your prospective husband because you do not wish to seem antagonistic or greedy. A properly negotiated and drafted pre-nuptial agreement can address these very genuine concerns. The assistance of a lawyer in the negotiation and drafting process is essential if you wish your agreement to be valid and enforceable at some later time.

Guild Plans Trip To Art Museum

The Andovers Artists Guild is sponsoring a bus trip to the Worcester Art Museum on April 21, which includes a guided tour of two special exhibits: Andrea Del Sarto and John Kensett. The Kensett exhibit will move to the west coast and then to the Metropolitan Museum soon, so this is a good opportunity to take advantage of two outstanding exhibits before they're gone.

The bus will leave from Old Center in front of the North Parish Church, North Andover, at 11:45 a.m. with expected time of return 6 p.m.

The guild's annual meeting was held April 3 at the Courtyard Restaurant. Included was a synchronized color slide and music program by Barry Rhys. Officers elected were Phila Slade, president; Cathy Piazza, vice president; Susan Rice, treasurer; Nella Rush, recording secretary; Doris Peterson, corresponding secretary. Board members are Anna Hogan, Joan Rademacher, Ann Albert, Lorraine Fournier, Elaine Meisinger and Bette Wasserboehr.

The Artists Guild's next meeting will be Sunday, May 19, at 2 p.m. at the North Parish Church in North Andover. Ward Mann will demonstrate oil painting with a palette knife.

Gould Holds Health Fair

Gould, Inc., Programmable Control Division (PCD) played host to more than 18 area health, civic and community groups at its third annual health fair at its Andover plant.

Sponsored by the company's Health Clinic, the fair ran like a trade show with exhibits and representatives from Pro-Med Laboratory, Weight Watchers, Associates in Psychological Services, Diet Workshop, Greater Lowell Area Health Education Center, American Heart Association, American Lung Association, American Red Cross, Lawrence Y.M.C.A., Cedardale Indoor Tennis and Health Club, Northeast Rehabilitation, American Cancer Society, Andover Public Health, Lawrence General Hospital, American Automobile Association, Andover Police Department, Dr. Mark Abelson and Associates and Salem Racquet Club.

Conveniently located in the cafeteria, employees were able to receive a variety of tests including blood test, coronary risk factor test, glaucoma screening, heart risk test and pulmonary function test. To ensure maximum participation, Gould PCD provided special transportation for its Salem, N.H., employees and allotted time for each of its departments to attend between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. PCD Gould employs 1,893 employees worldwide—1,629 work in the Andover and Salem plants.

The health fair, which is the focal point in the programmable control division's overall health and fitness program, addresses health from a preventative approach rather than a curative approach. It assumes that through education and evaluation, enlightened employees are healthier and more productive.

To Observe Library Week

Sting does it. Bill Cosby Too. Bette Midler even does it and so does Baryshnikov. They all read. This year these celebrities have stepped down from center stage and into America's libraries to lead a nationwide celebration demonstrating that we are a "Nation of Readers."

People do still read. The pundits of every age have been quick with premature obituaries, with the common prediction that television and the computer will displace the book and that a nation of watchers will cease to be a nation of readers. But, in fact, computers and television have probably increased the number of readers. How many computer books were there five years ago? Today, a computer is needed to keep track of all the titles. And, while millions may have been glued to the tube for television presentations of "Shogun" and "Lace," the next day many went to libraries and bookstores in search of the books.

"We are a nation of readers," says Nancy Jacobson, director of Memorial Hall Library, Andover. "Magazine subscriptions are up. Newspaper readership is on the rise. And public library usage is up, especially in the Children's Room at Memorial Hall Library where book circulation in 1984 increased 13 percent over the previous year. In addition, the number of reference inquiries in January 1985 was up 18 percent over the corresponding month a year ago."

April 16-21 is National Library Week. It is the perfect time to recapture the pleasure of reading. It's time to reaffirm ourselves as a Nation of Readers.

Receives Grant From GCA

Northern Essex Community College has received a $3,500 grant from the GCA Corporation to provide a training program in basic mathematics through the college's Lawrence Education-Employment Project (LEEP).

This basic training program in mathematics, which began March 18 and will continue for six weeks, has 25 participants who were pre-screened and referred to LEEP through the City of Lawrence Department of Training and Manpower Development. The program involves two hours of group study per day and one hour per day of independent remedial work. Participants will meet five days per week.

Those who successfully complete the program will be hired by GCA and undergo an eight-week training program provided by Wentworth Institute through a Bay State Skills Corporation grant in preparation for jobs as GCA-employed machine operators.

The Lawrence Education-Employment Project is an innovative model project developed by Northern Essex to provide educational and occupational training for those who are unemployed or are seeking to improve their employment situation. The project began January 7 and more than 400 people have already sought assistance through it.

Appointed Assistant Director

Mrs. Susan Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Keefe, Robandy Road, Andover, and a 1971 graduate of Andover High School, has been promoted to assistant director of communication disorders at the 200-bed New England Rehabilitation Hospital, Woburn.

Anderson received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Communications Disorders from the University of Massachusetts in 1975 and was awarded her Masters of Science degree, also in Communications Disorders, from Emerson College, Boston, in 1977.

She was assistant director of speech and language pathology at the Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital, Boston.

Anderson is a member of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, the Boston Area Clinical Aphasiology Group and the Weston Child Care Association.

She is married to Paul N. Anderson, formerly of Winchester. The couple have two children, Brian, 4, and Michael, 2.

Recycling Sale Intake Continues

Every Saturday, from 10 a.m. until noon, Draper Hall, through the Abbot gates on School Street, is open to receive donations for this year's Giant Recycling Sale, Auction and Aluminum Drive. Furniture, housewares, small appliances, toys, sports equipment, yard implements and almost anything in usable condition, except large appliances, books and clothing, are needed for the sale. The Recycling Sale, an annual tradition for 12 years or more, is the place to find unusual bargains, plants offered for sale by local garden clubs and interesting displays by environmental organizations. For the past several years, it has been Andover Recycling's only aluminum drive of the year. Pure aluminum cans, siding and heavy utensils, but not foil or frozen dinner trays, will be taken in any Saturday morning, along with sale items.

Expanded in-take hours are offered the week before the sale, which is Saturday, May 11. For information, call Mrs. R. Milton Cole, Mrs. Dan Dennett, Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck, Mrs. James Beattie or Mrs. Thomas Swift.

Exhibit

Springfest '85 will be on view at the Cambridge Art Association Gallery, 25R Lowell St., Cambridge, from April 21 to May 16. The exhibit features the work of 12 of the top CAA artists: Pamela LaCombe-Connell, Carolyn Latanisio, Randy LeSage, Elisabeth Pearl, Linda Pollen, Amy Ragus, Diana Ruetenik, Jaice Sayls, Marge Schwarz, Sally J. Stevens, Syma and Jane Gray Wainwright.

Job Fair

The final Job Fair of the 1984-85 academic year at Northern Essex Community College in Haverhill will be held April 24 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Tiled Lounge of the College Center, under the sponsorship of the college's office of cooperative education and placement.

It is anticipated that more than 40 employers will attend and many will interview on-the-spot and, if past experience is any indication, hire on-the-spot.

Representatives from the armed services, temporary personnel services, two international insurance corporations, a radio station and several high tech firms will attend.

The office of cooperative education and placement suggests that those attending bring a resume and a copy of their transcript.

Workshops On Death, Grief At Merrimack

Dealing with death and the process of grief will be explored in two workshops at Merrimack College on Wednesday, April 24, and Wednesday, May 1.

The workshops will be held as a "follow-up" to the lecture by Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, author of the landmark book "On Death and Dying," on April 10 at the Collins Center in Andover. The lecture is being sponsored by Hospice of Greater Lawrence. Attendance at Kubler-Ross' lecture is not required in order to participate in these workshops.

On April 24, four experts in dealing with death and grieving will respond to the major themes discussed by Kubler-Ross. Panelists will include Rev. James A. Diamond, rector of The Parish of Christ Church in Andover, who has worked with Kubler-Ross; Evelyn C. Gladu, education coordinator of Omega, emotional support services to the ill and bereaved in Somerville; David Duncan, director of volunteer and bereavement services at Hospice of Greater Lawrence; and Mary Anne Petti, co-facilitator of the bereavement support group at Omega and a member of the Omega Institute faculty.

Small group discussions allowing participants to discuss their concerns will then be facilitated by the panelists.

At the May 1 workshop, four educators will present and discuss audio-visuals they use in teaching courses and workshops on death and grief. Panelists will include the Rev. Diamond, Rabbi Samuel Fox, associate professor of religious studies at Merrimack, Dr. Anne Arsenault, director of special programs at Merrimack, and Dr. Sandra Fox, director of the Good Grief program of the Family Support Center at Judge Baker Guidance Center who has developed the videotape series "The Death of A Friend: Helping Children Cope with Grief and Loss" for use in elementary classrooms.

Each panelist will give a preview of one of the films to be shown. Participants will then be able to view the film of their choice in its entirety.

Both workshops will provide ample time for questions and discussion. They will be held in the McQuade Library Auditorium on the Merrimack campus in North Andover.

Arsenault explained that these workshops "will be of interest to those who can not attend the Kubler-Ross lecture, those who are coping with a loss through death and those who help others in their grief."

These sessions are co-sponsored by Merrimack College and Hospice, a division of the Visiting Nurse Association of Greater Lawrence.

Reservations are required. A registration fee is requested. For further information or to make reservations, contact the Merrimack College division of continuing education.

To Address Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of Jewish Family Service of Greater Lawrence will be held at 10 a.m. on Sunday, April 21, at the Jewish Community Center, 580 Haverhill St., Lawrence. Thomas A. Ross, ACSW, LICSW, clinical social worker and coordinator of Elderly Services, Greater Lawrence Mental Health Center, will present a program entitled "Who Cares for the Caregiver?"

For further information regarding this program or Jewish Family Service, call Judith G. Kroner, LICSW.

Lodge To Present Scholarship of the Joseph Koffman Lodge of B'nai B'rith, is pleased to announce that the lodge is again giving its annual Harry H. Koffman scholarship to an Andover High School graduating senior in June. The scholarship fund, established in memory of Harry Koffman, a long-time resident of Andover, continues his lifetime demonstrated concern with young people and his deep interest and support of their educational goals.

Applications for the award, this year for $650, are available at the high school guidance office. The recipient, who will be chosen by the high school's scholarship committee, must have demonstrated a commitment to individual human rights and community affairs, participated in school activities and be accepted at an accredited college.

This college-bound senior will be the fifth recipient to receive this honor, which will be awarded April 14 at the lodge's annual community service award breakfast at Temple Emanuel.

Donations may be made to the Scholarship Fund and cards will be sent. Send check and information (in honor, in memory of, etc.) to Joseph G. Koffman Lodge, P.O. Box 3094, Andover, Mass. 01810

K. Of C. Rezoning Proposal Fails To Gain Majority

By Sue Aucella Deacon

rezoning the 5.8-acre Frontage Road parcel from Single Residence C to Industrial D. A majority of voters favored the K. of C. proposal last Wednesday night at the Collins Center, but Article 77 lost on a 342-249 vote because it failed to win the two-thirds majority needed to carry a zoning change. Moderator James Doherty said the article would have needed 394 votes to pass.

The Planning Board recommended disapproval of the article, which came up for discussion shortly after 10 p.m., three hours into the last session of town meeting.

Chairman Margaret Bradshaw said her board had two "major unresolved concerns" about the proposal: the lack of sewer service at the proposed industrial site, and the potential for increasing traffic in an area that is already congested during commuter rush hours.

Selectmen Chairman William Dalton said the selectmen supported the article, but did not comment on the rezoning proposal.

Osgood Street resident Susan Poore (a School Committee member) urged voters to defeat Article 77, so that industrial developers might "stop putting undue pressure on our residences. Resist this pressure."

Allowing industrial zoning on the Knights of Columbus parcel would damage the "integrity of the residential quality of the community," Poore said, and would also "bottleneck Osgood Street further" with commuter traffic.

Speaking for the K. of C., James Sullivan of Matthew Street said the Frontage Road site was "the only piece of residential property abutting Route 93 on the westerly side." Because the site is so close to the highway, he said, it seems unlikely that it will ever be developed into house lots.

The organization is no longer interested in renting its meeting hall for dances and parties, Sullivan added, and would not buy another building if it sold the property.

Sullivan told the voters that town meeting rejected the Knights' rezoning request in land was under sale agreement with a developer: Charter Development Corp. of Wakefield.

According to Andover Atty. Richard Asoian, Charter Development hoped to build an 88,000-square foot, three-story building on the site, which is located at the corner of Frontage Road and Osgood Street. The $6 million brick building would be landscaped to create a buffer between neighboring residences, he said.

The office site would have two exits, Asoian said, both of them south of the existing homes, so that traffic headed for Route 93 would not pass those houses. The developer would also re-design the intersection of Frontage Road and Osgood Street to make it safer, he added.

With no sewer line currently serving the site, Charter planned to use septic systems, but would connect into any future sewer line as soon as possible, the attorney said. (The developer had hoped to tie into Digital Equipment Corp.'s proposed Dascomb Road sewer line, but Digital currently has no plans to develop its Dascomb Road site — or to install the sewer line.)

The Knights of Columbus property is "80 percent surrounded by industry," Asoian emphasized, with neighbors that include Raytheon, the new Vicorp building, the Digital site, and Route 93.

It therefore represents "reverse spot zoning," he said, and zoning the site ID (the town's most restrictive industrial zone) would create "little or no intrusion into the residential zone."

Voters last rejected the K. of C. proposal four years ago, with a vote of 276 against and 184 in favor of rezoning the property from SRC to ID, after area residents urged the meeting not to leave them totally surrounded by industry.

That vote was taken minutes after the 1981 annual meeting voted 475 to 150 to rezone 127 acres of Dascomb Road land from SRC to ID, in an article supported by most town officials, so that Digital Equipment Corp. could build a plant on that site.

Recycling Week Begins Tuesday

Because of the Patriot's Day holiday Monday, the next paper recycling pickups will be Tuesday, April 16, through Friday, April 19. Double-bagged or securely tied paper should be placed at curbside apart from the trash on regular trash collection day. Until routes become established on a fairly firm schedule paper should be put out by 7 a.m.

Glass will not be collected at curbside, but a system of glass recycling, perhaps with a monthly drive, should be worked out in the near future. The recycling center, which has operated in the Heartland parking lot downtown for the past 11 months, has been permanently closed as the lot undergoes construction and beautification.

Vacation Movie Program

The Department of Community Services will sponsor two feature films during school vacation week in the Doherty Junior High School Auditorium.

"Annie" will be shown at 10 a.m. Tuesday, April 16. "Annie" overflows with dynamic and talented performances by Albert Finney, Carol Burnett, Bernadette Peters, Ann Reinking, Tim Curry and Aileen Quinn. It is rated PG and will run 128 minutes.

"The Love Bug" will be shown at 1 p.m. Thursday, April 18. Herbie, the emotional Volkswagen, tries to straighten out the life of a has-been race car driver with riotous results. This Walt Disney production, starring Dean Jones, Michele Lee and Buddy Hackett, will run 108 minutes.

A small admission fee will be charged.

The Fiji Islands, Barbados and Iceland do not have armed forces.

Voters Mete Cross Street Site To Conservation And Schools

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A months-long controversy over what will become of a 107-acre Cross Street site came to an end last Wednesday night, when town meeting voted to place 70 acres in the control of the Conservation Commission, and leave 37 acres available as the site of a future school building.

With their unanimous approval of Article 82, 992 voters brought 1985 annual town meeting to its conclusion at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Collins Center.

During that four-hour-plus wrap-up session, town meeting also approved amendments to the zoning bylaws on hotel/motel height restrictions and the number of stories allowed in all zones, and amendments to the multiple-family housing laws.

They turned down, however, a proposed Shawsheen Village parking lot, and a plan to do maintenance work on privately-controlled streets.

Robert Merrill of the West Andover Neighborhood Association (WANA) explained that WANA had amended Article 82 to transfer control of only 70 acres of the Cross Street site to the conservation commission, rather than the entire parcel.

The Board of Selectmen, Planning Board and Finance Committee recommended approval of the amended article; they had recommended disapproval of the original article.

School Committee Chairman Donald Robb said his committee supported the amended WANA proposal as well, because 37 acres would be "more than adequate for a school site", while the remaining acreage was "totally unsuitable for building a school, or any purpose" because it is largely wetlands.

James Kartell of Brady Loop opposed the amendment, urging voters to act on the original article.

But Selectmen Chairman William Dalton said the selectmen would not allow the entire site to be considered for the proposed transfer — and that in the opinion of town counsel, the selectmen have authority over the land.

In recent months the Cross Street parcel was discussed as a possible site for an ice rink and recreation center to be built as a gift to the town; it was later withdrawn from consideration.

In a more negative frame of mind, voters decided not to build a new parking lot off Balmoral Street along the Shawsheen River. Although the meeting at first voted to approve the lot with a 257-256 vote on Article 80, the vote turned up 271 against and 261 for the article on a recount.

Town officials had proposed building the lot on town-owned land and leasing it exclusively to the Andover Companies in Shawsheen for employee parking during business hours. The 65-car lot would be built at the company's expense, and would be available to townspeople using the nearby playing fields at night and on weekends.

Shawsheen residents opposed that plan, saying that an article that would give up public land for private use would "set a dangerous precedent."

Only one citizen spoke in favor of the article: an Andover Companies employee who explained that he and his co-workers have a hard time finding parking spaces in busy Shawsheen Square every day.

Nor were voters willing to approve Article 81, which would have authorized the Public Works department to repair private streets (streets not accepted as public ways).

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said that article would cost the town no more

Daffodils

The daffodil is an ancient flower, having been found entwined in an Egyptian funeral wreath dating to 1570 B.C. The Greek poet Homer paid tribute to the daffodil in 700 B.C. as the "little cup" flower.

Quilts

Northern Essex Community College will offer a workshop, "Log Cabin Quilt in a Day," on April 24 from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. and April 27 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at its Haverhill campus.

Participants will learn the newest technique for making a log cabin quilt. Fabric is cut into strips at the April 24 workshop, then the fabric is stitched together during the April 27 workshop. Baby and twin-size quilts can be completed in class. Students must supply fabrics, sewing machine and sewing supplies. A book and complete supply list is available from the division of continuing education and community services office at the Haverhill campus.

For more information, contact Naoni Shertzer, DCE special interest coordinator, at Northern Essex.

On Friday, April 12, from 7 to 9 p.m., the public is invited to the Addison Gallery of American Art for the opening receptions for two shows, "Traveling," and "Land/Space/Sculpture."

"Traveling" will exhibit the work of several internationally renowned photographers who together present the results of their visual explorations.

The photographs on exhibit were not part of any particular assignment; rather, they represent an attempt by the artists to capture the essence of a particular country through their lenses. Traveling for personal, artistic reasons is a long-standing photographers' tradition: The work presented in this exhibit therefore symbolizes a visual legacy, with contemporary images.

Photographs of India, Thailand, Cambodia, Egypt, Italy, Indonesia, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Peru and Guatemala present the visual features of these countries, without editorial judgment. Artists represented include Adam Bartos, Bill Burke, Linda Connor, Mitch Epstein, Ed Graza, Robert Lyons, Richard Pare, Leo Rubinfiel, and Rosalind Solomon.

Special Diets

For those following a special diet for weight reduction or controlling a medical problem (diabetes, high blood pressure or heart disease, for examples), the Regional Health Center in Wilmington is offering a three-part workshop "Living on a Special diet."

The series will focus on recipes selection, substituting ingredients, shopping tips, reading nutritional contents labels, cooking methods and recipe comparisons and eating for special occasions and dining out.

The program will be conducted on Tuesdays, April 23, 30 and May 7 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The next exhibit, "Land/Space/Sculpture," is a series of documentation, drawings, installations and photographs. Artists represented will include Vito Acconci, Carl Andre, Alice Aycock, Marilyn Bridges, Christo, Hamish Fulton, Nancy Holt, Dennis Oppenheim, Karina Raeck, Gary Rieveschl (artist-in-residence during the exhibition), Hans Jorg Voth, William Willers, and Robert Smithson.

Artist-in-residence Gary Rieveschl graduated from Phillips Academy in 1961, and from Harvard University in 1966. Known for the environmental sculptures he calls "Lifeforms," Rieveschl has exhibited his work at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, and has contributed major works to the cities of Chicago, Cincinnati, Berlin, and Friburg in West Germany. He has lived in Berlin since 1982.

Both exhibits will continue at the Addison Gallery through June 9.

Vacation Programs

Looking for something exciting and fun for your children to do during the April School Vacation Week? The Andover-North Andover YMCA has the perfect solution: two vacation-week programs, Tuesday, April 16, through Friday, April 19. The Preschool Spring Fling, for children ages 3-6, will meet from 9 a.m. to noon each day. Activities will include swim, crafts, gym, story time and snacks. Children should bring a bathing suit, towel, swim cap, shorts and sneakers. The Youth Spring Fling, for boys and girls in grades 1-6, will meet from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Activities will include crafts, games, swimming, gym, movies and a lot more. Children should bring a lunch, shorts, t-shirt, sneakers, towel, swim cap and appropriate clothing for outdoor activities.

Registration is taking place at the Andover-North Andover YMCA, 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

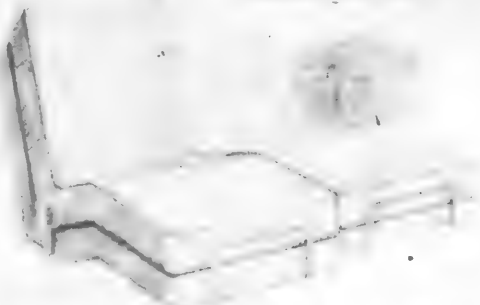

Swimming Campaign Set

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will offer another "Learn to Swim Campaign." The program was so successful during the February school vacation week that it is being offered during April School Vacation Week. Emphasis is on teaching beginner skills to boys and girls in grades K-6. Each child will attend four 45-minute classes April 16, 17, 18 and 19. Two class options are available: 9:45 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. or 10:30 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. Registration is taking place at the Andover-North Andover YMCA, 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

Performance Is Benefit

Broadway will be coming to Andover on April 26, 27, 28 and May 3 and 4 when Andover Community Theatre presents its spring musical, "Seesaw."

"Seesaw," based on William Gibson's play "Two for the Seesaw," asks the musical question, can a Nebraska WASP lawyer in New York trying to forget his impending divorce find true love with Gittel Mosca, a sassy, brassy, warmhearted Jewish girl from the Bronx?

When Michael Bennett's play first opened on Broadway, it was hailed for its brilliant integration of lively, up-tempo musical numbers and touching, but cynically realistic, storyline, a talent Bennett utilized later in creating the plays "Chorus Line" and "Dreamgirl."

"Seesaw" will be performed at Doherty Junior High School, Bartlet Street, Andover. Tickets can be purchased from cast members, The Butlers Pantry, the Department of Community Services or at the door.

Opening night will serve as a benefit for the Andover-based charitable organization Vision House. This organization is dedicated to raising funds for the development of a residential center that would provide day and residential services for victims of head injury residing in Merrimack Valley. For ticket information about this special benefit performance, contact Evey Chedekel.

Tulips

The tulip reminds us of Holland, but it didn't come from there originally. The first European to see the flower was the Austrian ambassador to the Turkish Empire, who spotted it in a garden near Constantinople in 1554.

He spread the word about the flower and a bulb trading market developed in Holland which saw single bulbs sell for astronomical sums. The market collapsed in 1637 and it wasn't until a few years later that the Dutch discovered they could grow tulips in their own rich soil.

Musical Comedy At College

The Merrimack College On-Stagers will present the musical comedy "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" to conclude their 1984-85 drama season, on April 12, 13, 14, 18, 19 and 20. Curtain time is promptly at 8 p.m.

The final performance on April 20 will be a dinner theatre, with seating beginning at 6:30 p.m. All tickets for the dinner theatre must be purchased in advance through an On-Stager cast member or the office of student activities in Gildred Hall on the Merrimack campus. Tickets for all other performances can be purchased at the door or through advance sales.

Hailed as one of the all-time best musical comedies when it opened on Broadway in 1962, "Forum" follows the exploits of a series of characters on a street in Rome sometime after the first century A.D. Heading the list is Psuedolus, a slave seeking his freedom, which his young master will grant to him only if he first gets him the lovely virgin that the youth has been pining for ever since he first saw her in the window of the house of a courtesan dealer who resides next door. The virgin has been sold to a captain who comes to claim her that very day and Psuedolus is also under instructions to keep his young master out of trouble, especially the kind involving the opposite sex. Add to that a lecherous father who thinks the virgin is his new maid, a domineering mother, a daffy old man who is searching for his children who were stolen in infancy by pirates, soldiers courtesans, servants and slaves and you have "Forum."

The play was so successful that three years after it opened it was made into a movie which starred two of the original Broadway leads, Zero Mostel as Psuedolus and Jack Gilford as Hysterium, the head slave. The Merrimack cast includes Kevin Keelen as Psuedolus, Paul John Donovan as Hysterium, Paul DiMilla as the courtesan dealer Lycus, Lisa Marie Orr as the virgin Philia, Thomas Doyle as Senex, the father, Adele Keohanas his wife Domina, Richard Allegretto and Capt. Miles Gloriousus, Jeffrey Howlett as the love sick hero and Alex Nahigan as Erronius, the wandering father. Mary Beth Ogorchock, Amy Carroll, Cathy DiBurro, Anne Sullivan, Nila Thoday and Aurelie Mary McCarthy play the courtesans. Carrying out the multiple duties of the protean/guards are Mike Wright, Mike Sills, James Casazza and Dennis Gordon.

The Portland String Quartet will present a program ranging from Bach to Bloch at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, Friday, April 26 at 8 p.m. Tickets available at the center box office.

Brusberg-Bohaker

Mrs. Todd H. Brusberg

Susan Jane Bohaker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Bohaker, Jr., of 119 Rattlesnake Hill Road, Andover, was married to Todd Henry Brusberg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robar Brusberg of Shawnee, Okla., on March 16 at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Greater Lynn, Swampscott.

The Rev. Robert Slater officiated at the five o'clock ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned with long sleeves, a V neckline, dropped V waistline and taffeta skirt, highlighted with lace and beads on the bodice. She wore a scalloped fingertip-length veil, and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses, three white lilies, baby's breath and ivy.

Kristin Hertzog of Cupertino, Calif., was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Bohaker and Diane Bohaker of Andover, sisters of the bride, and Beth Dietz of Southampton. Shawna and Kerrin Mitchell of Andover were flower girls.

Lee Gilson of Cyprus, Calif., was the groom's best man. Ushers were Tim Flint of Jersey City, N.J., Bruce Mitchell of Andover, and Scott Eschenroeder of Beverly.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Tedesco Country Club in Marblehead. Out-of-town guests from California, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Rhode Island and New Jersey were present.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Principia College, Elmhurst, Ill., and a 1980 graduate of Bay Path Junior College, Longmeadow. She is employed as an employment staff assistant with the Christian Science Center of Boston.

Her husband is a 1983 graduate of Principia College in Elmhurst, Ill., and a 1980 graduate of Shawnee High School, Shawnee, Okla. He is employed as a computer programmer/analyst with Grieco Brothers of Lawrence.

Following a wedding trip to Paris, France, the couple is residing in North Andover.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Babies are fascinated by older children. If your baby is not your first child, you'll soon discover that he or she is just as interested in her brother or sister as she is in you. Once your baby is old enough for them to play together, this will be one of her favorite pastimes. If you provide the opportunity and encouragement for this kind of play, you benefit your whole family. You get a brief relief from baby care, and most mothers certainly need that from time to time.

See the largest in depth selection of baby furniture in N. E., when you come to TINY TOTLAND. Open 9-5:30 Mon. & Th. 9-9. Famous makers including Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett and Morigaux. Delivery anywhere. M/C & Visa. Free Lay-A-Way plan. Babies toys...all ages...everything from "heaven to seven." We welcome your curiosity at TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, N.H., Tel. 1-603-623-6171. "Where Quality Costs you Less."

Liturgical Ministry Day Set

A year ago Anita McDuffie, music/liturgy director at St. Augustine's, Andover, conceived the idea of having a day of "continuing education" for the liturgical ministers of the parish. Fr. Richard O'Leary, OSA, pastor of St. Augustine's, suggested the scope of the day be expanded and neighboring parishes be included.

The workshop will take place at St. Mary's, Lawrence, on Saturday, April 20, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Financial and logistical support for the day are being given by St. Augustine's and St. Robert's, Andover, Merrimack College Campus Ministry, St. Augustine's, St. Anne's, St. Mary's and Holy Rosary of Lawrence. Members of these supporting parishes who are liturgical ministers or considering joining a ministry are encouraged to participate at no charge. A donation will be asked at the door from members of other parishes.

This day comes at an auspicious time in light of Archbishop Law's recent pastoral letter, urging upgrading of parish music, fuller use of non-ordained persons in liturgies, better preparation of homilies and presiding. Workshops will address each of these areas and an afternoon panel discussion will include all of the workshop speakers.

The organizing committee are excited about the distinguished group of locally and nationally known speakers. Rev. James A. O'Donohoe, professor of moral theology at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, will give the keynote address, "Whose Church is it Anyway?"

Speakers and workshops will include:

Music - Kenneth Meltz, composer, music/liturgy director of Boston's Paulist Center.

Eucharistic Ministers - Leo Martin, deacon, St. John the Baptist, Peabody.

Lectors - Mrs. Frances Lashoto, teacher of public speaking, Emerson College, Boston, and homiletics instructor, St. John's Seminary, Brighton.

Art and Environment - Sr. Patricia Rollinger, SND, and Sr. Patricia O'Rourke, SND, co-foundresses of School of Performing Arts, Ipswich.

Deacons and Presiders - Rev. Thomas A. Kane, C.S.P., former faculty member of Bishops' Conference, National Chaplain's School.

Hospitality - Rev. Eugene D. Tully, associate pastor, St. Clements, Somerville.

Easter Program At Church

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist and United Church of Christ) will mark the second Sunday of Easter with a Service of the Word at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell will have "We are the World," based on the lesson in Acts 4:32-35, as his Easter message. The choir will offer a special anthem and the congregation will sing several Easter hymns. A time for fellowship and light refreshments will follow the service. A church school class for adults meets at 9:30 a.m. and for children at 10:30 a.m.

The junior and senior high youth fellowships are having a family roller skating event Sunday at 5:30 p.m. Members of the junior high fellowship prepared and served the Easter Sunday breakfast and voted to give the proceeds of $25 to the United Methodist Bishops' Appeal for African Famine Relief.

Supper

The Men's Fellowship of the Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist and United Church of Christ) will serve a chicken pot pie supper this Saturday in Shaw Fellowship Hall at 6:30 p.m. which is open to the community. Call the church office to make reservations or purchase tickets at the door. The church is located at 23 Clark Road.

APRIL 11, 1985

Gail Morton

Gail (Moran) Morton of 11 Wethersfield Drive, Andover, well-known for her work with many community service organizations, died April 3 at her home following a long illness. She was 46.

Born in Garden City, Long Island, N.Y., Mrs. Morton graduated from Skidmore College in 1960. She worked as a learning disabilities teacher in the Andover schools, and taught Confraternity of Christian Doctrine classes at St. Augustine's Church as well. She was one of the organizers of the Hay Scales Mini Courses program in North Andover, and was one of the founders of the North Andover Country Club Ladies Flower Committee. Among her many volunteer works, she was involved with Exceptional Cancer Patients, Inc., of New Haven, Conn., and with Hospice programs as well, offering counseling and support to cancer patients and their families.

Mrs. Morton also worked with Lawrence Neighbors in Need, and Bread and Roses. She belonged to the Ladies of Merrimack, was a life member of the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association, a member of the North Andover Country Club, and a former member of the Andover Garden Club. She worked on Skidmore College's admissions and counseling programs throughout the northeast, and her work will be recognized at the college commencement this spring, 25 years after her graduation, with a special alumnae award in her honor.

She leaves her husband, David L. Morton; two sons, David L., Jr., and Thomas J., of Andover; four daughters, Jennifer E., Julie M., Amy and Melissa A. Morton, of Andover; her mother, Camille (Caddle) Moran of New York; two brothers, Thomas F. Moran of Maryland, and Donald E. Moran of Westboro; and one aunt, Mrs. Edward Hermann of Washington, D.C.

A funeral Mass was offered Tuesday morning at St. Augustine Church, Andover. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery, Andover. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Pollard Funeral Home, 233 Lawrence St., Methuen.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Gail Moran Morton Fund, Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N.Y. 12866.

Helen M. McTernan

Mrs. Helen M. Cates McTernan, formerly of Andover, died March 20 at age 95 at Fairview Hospital in Great Barrington. Born on May 11, 1889, in West Somerville, she was the daughter of A. Lincoln and Carrie M. Stewart Cates.

She was a resident of Andover since age four, attended school there and was a graduate of Punchard High School. She had made her home in Great Barrington for the past four years. Mrs. McTernan was the wife of Dr. Malcolm Bodwell McTernan, who died in 1952. She was the oldest living member of the South Church Congregational in Andover.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Prescott Coan, Sheffield; one son, Malcolm Bodwell McTernan, Jr. of Peoria, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Harold T. Godfrey of Andover; five grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

A graveside service will be held later this spring at the family plot in Spring Grove Cemetery in Andover. Memorial contributions may be made to the Heart Fund through the Stevens & Finnerty Funeral Home, 426 Main St., Great Barrington, Mass. 01230, who are in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Robert H. DeHart

Dr. Robert H. DeHart of 105 Elm St., Andover, died April 3 at Lawrence General Hospital. He was 72.

Dr. DeHart was born in Ocean Grove, N.J. He had been a resident of Andover for 20 years, and practiced podiatry in the town.

He leaves his wife, Evelyn (Bassett) DeHart; two daughters, Suzanne Telles of Melrose and Cynthia Santavica of Cincinnati, Ohio; one brother, Raymond J. of Wakefield; and five grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held Friday at the Caron Funeral Home, North Andover. Burial was private.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association, 16 Haverhill St., Andover 01810.

CBD Rezoning Rejected As Voters Accept Master Plan Promise

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Town meeting stood in single-minded opposition to rezoning downtown residential land for business use last Wednesday night, the final night of the 1985 meeting, when voters defeated three rezoning articles.

One of those failed articles was North Andover funeral director John Caron's second attempt to rezone 42-44 Elm St. for use as a new funeral home. Proposals to rezone 6 Punchard Ave. and 72 Park St. from Single Residence A to General Business zoning were also disapproved.

After that clear indication that voters were not inclined to add currently-residential sites to the downtown business district Wednesday night, a fourth article seeking business rezoning for a Bartlet Street residence was withdrawn.

The Planning Board emphasized that they intend to bring their overall plan for expanding the Central Business District (CBD) before 1986 annual town meeting. With many questions about potential CBD expansion still unanswered, the planners maintained that last week's proposals were premature — and could have "potentially disastrous results" for Andover.

Neighbors of the three sites, for their part, argued that rezoning those parcels for business use would increase traffic and parking problems and erode the residential character of their neighborhoods.

The rezoning articles helped attract 992 voters to the 1,250-seat Collins Center — almost a full house — during the last night of this year's three-night annual meeting.

Caron's proposal, Article 72, was defeated on a standing vote of 445 against and 385 in favor of the article.

(Last year, town meeting supported Caron's rezoning article for the same Elm Street site with a 277-186 vote — less than the two-thirds majority vote needed to approve a zoning change.)

The funeral director had hoped to extend the General Business district from its current boundary at 28 Elm St. (the Gurry Agency) to 42-44 Elm, including three Single Residence A parcels that fall between those two addresses.

Caron told voters that Andover needs a new funeral home, and that 42-44 Elm St. would be an ideal site. Atty. Charles Dalton, representing Caron, said he believed the site would eventually be rezoned for business anyway, so rezoning it this year would "give us a little head start" on the planning board's master plan for CBD expansion.

But the planners recommended disapproval of Article 72. Paul Curley said the board wants to examine many aspects of business zone expansion, including traffic, parking, "visual impact" on surrounding residences, and the possibility of creating a new "transition" zone between businesses and residences.

Curley said the board was unconvinced that Caron's plan would benefit Andover, adding, "We don't need a head start. A head start without planning can cause chaos." The Board of Selectmen also recommended disapproval.

One neighbor, Edith Jako of Chickering Court, and the Rev. Jack Daniel of the Free Christian Church at 31 Elm St. supported the article.

But several townspeople opposed it: Elm Street residents are "getting slowly crunched," by the business district, Kathrin Baun of Lockway Road said.

And David Brown of Glenwood Road noted that "we're not voting on a funeral home — we're changing the zoning on four parcels of land. Anything could be put on those parcels."

Article 73, seeking the rezoning of a four-unit apartment house at 6 Punchard Ave. for use as professional or business offices, was defeated with a vote of 396 in favor and 405 against the article. The site is owned by Douglas Howe and Clifford Howe, Jr., and located next to the Howe Agency at 4 Punchard Ave. — where the business zone now ends.

Atty. Michael Morris said the article asked for "a logical and fair extension" of the existing CBD. He argued that Punchard Avenue "is in fact a commercial and business site," especially since town and school offices moved to the former East Junior High School on Bartlet Street, at the foot of Punchard Avenue.

The rezoning would benefit the town by providing more off-street parking and higher tax payments, the attorney said.

But Curley said the planning board saw "no apparent benefit to the town" in Article 73, and instead feared "potentially disastrous results." He repeated the board's commitment to bringing a plan for the entire business district before next year's town meeting.

A number of area residents spoke against the Howe proposal, urging voters to maintain the residential character of their neighborhood.

Support was heard from Clare Sullivan of Punchard Avenue, who called the Howes "wonderful neighbors." Mark Engelberg of High Street said Punchard Avenue needs the parking the new offices could provide.

Robert Westcott of York Street said the proposed change was "far from drastic. It's a relatively small change in the character of the street and the use of that property." The selectmen also recommended approval of the Howe article.

Among the three downtown articles that were considered last week, Article 74 was defeated by the most distinct margin. The meeting turned down that bid to rezone 72 Park St., owned by Daniel and Claire Morin, from residential to business use with a vote of 480 against and 138 in favor of the article.

Atty. Domenic Terranova said the rezoning represented "a natural extension" of the existing CBD, and would extend the district toward the current business district and away from residential neighbors. He described Park Street as "more commer-

IMMERSING YOURSELF

There is something sensual about bathing in a sunken tub. One enters as if stepping into a tropical pool, slowly immersing one's body, preferably to the neck, and settling back to savor the water's restorative effects. Even children cannot wait to get into the suds. Interested in taking a bath like this? A bathroom can be designed in many different ways. If the bathroom is on the ground floor, a tub may be able to be sunk into crawl space under the floor. On a second story, try dipping into unused space over a garage or stairwell. Or, consider raising it up with a platform.

A remodeled bathroom can be one of the most glamorous and luxurious rooms in the house. It no longer is just a sink, toilet and bathtub. It can be a unique creation of cabinets, shelving, modern bathroom fixtures and accessories. At WINDSOR KITCHENS we will completely design and install a bathroom that is the height of style and efficiency with beautiful, quality materials. Come to our showroom at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill to view what can be yours in a few short weeks. We're here to solve your design problems Mon-Thurs. 9-5:30; Fri. til 8; Sat. til 2. Tel. 372-3444.

HANDY HINT:

To get extra room for an especially large tub, consider expanding into an adjacent closet.

Toxic Materials Slowly Being Removed From Closed Plant

By Susan Rand

An unknown amount of cancer-causing chemicals and toxic solvents are being cleaned out of a Lowell Junction Road plant formerly operated by the now bankrupt GSF Corporation where a cleanup effort is being hampered by the building owner's failure to pay for the removal of the waste.

Andover officials first got involved in the GSF situation back in January, explained Health Director Everett F. Penny, when an Andover Fire Department lieutenant attempted to perform an annual fire prevention inspection and discovered people at the plant auctioning off GSF equipment. A cleanup operation, under the direction of town health officers and the state Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE), began on the site when both agencies brought in a Wrentham company licensed by DEQE and the Environmental Protection Agency to remove the hazardous wastes.

Penny said there are one dozen 5,000 gallon tanks, each containing some chemicals, inside the plant, which manufactured eurothane foam for mattresses. Outside there are another 150 50-gallon drums, holding a total of about 25 to 50 gallons of the chemicals. Some of the chemicals have been identified and Penny is awaiting laboratory results on others.

The drums outside the plant corroded and then leaked their contents onto, and possibly into, the ground. Penny said he can't be sure how much liquid was in the drums found outside because they were so badly corroded when they were found.

"My suspicion is that they were near empty barrels when they were put out there," he said. "They were washed with the rain, rusted and leaked. The quantity isn't important with these materials. We want to get them out of there."

The health director said the chemicals found at GSF included toluene diisocyanate, also called TDI, which is a raw product used in the manufacture of foam. A known carcinogen, TDI can be fatal if enough of the chemical is inhaled, Penny said, adding that the substance is known to cause teratogenesis, or fetal deformations, and is mutagenic, causing changes in genes or chromosomes.

Other chemicals include polyether polyol, a nasal and throat irritant; methylene chloride, a carcinogen that is used as a washing agent for purification and the removal of other liquids; arsenic chloride solution, a toxic substance the use of which at GSF isn't clear to Penny. Also found was a cyanide solution, a chemical which Penny said releases a deadly gas, he isn't sure what it was used for, and methylene diisocyanate, also known as MDI, a raw product used in the manufacture of foam.

Some of chemicals found at GSF are in the same chemical family as the deadly gas that killed and injured many of the residents of Bhopal, India, according to Penny.

There isn't an immediate public health problem around the 12-acre GSF site, Penny said, because the area has been secured.

"The situation is temporarily under control," Penny said. "The environment in the surrounding area is safe. But the potential for an emergency is there as long as the chemicals are there and people working."

Everett Penny, Andover's health director, posts warning signs on containers soon to be filled with waste outside the GSF plant on Lowell Junction Road.

The Franklin Pumping Service, of Wrentham, began removing the toxic materials last week, but hasn't returned to the site since last Thursday. According to Penny, who said he checks the site daily, the cleanup should take two weeks, but because the building's owner hasn't paid Franklin for the work, there is some question about when the Wren-

River Road Site For New Greek Church

By Susan Rand

A 3.4 acre site on River Road will be home to the new Greek Orthodox Saints Constantine and Helen Church, now still in the planning stages.

The Lawrence congregation, which purchased the land last August, has remained small because their church, located at the corner of Essex and Gale Streets in Lawrence, is not large enough to accommodate the upwards of 400 members congregation. President Charles Liponis anticipates the new church will attract.

"There are many Greek Orthodox people moving into the area, especially in North Andover and Andover," Liponis said.

The site of the new church is the Doyle Lumber property, said Liponis. He expects to hire a church architect, not easy to find, Liponis said, by September and hopes the church will be open in 1986 in time for the church's 50th anniversary.

The structure will be modern in style with a Byzantine flavor, Liponis said, adding that there will be at least six Sunday school classrooms in the new building.

Construction of a new church has been discussed by church members for about ten years, the congregation president said.

When the cornerstone of the new Andover church is laid it will contain artifacts from the cornerstone of the Lawrence church, which Liponis said are now unknown to congregation members.

The nearest Greek Orthodox churches are in Lowell and Haverhill.

Neighbors Oppose Day Care Center

By Susan Rand

The added traffic, noise and general disruption that over a dozen Wild Rose Drive area residents believe Gwen Hedrick's proposed day care center would bring to their neighborhood was enough to bring them in force to last Thursday's Zoning Board of Appeals meeting to speak against the kindergarten teacher's plan.

But Hedrick, who wants to put her Cuddle Care Inc. business in a fire-ravaged home that for ten years stood in ruins at the corner of Wild Rose Drive and Lowell Street, countered that vocal opposition with a petition supporting the day care operation that she gave the board bearing 30 names of neighborhood residents, three of whom are a majority of the five abutters of the three-quarter acre parcel.

The ZBA visited the proposed day care site on Saturday morning but put off a decision on the special permit request until they receive a report on the traffic in the area from Police Chief James Johnson. Board Chairman Wesley Whitney told THE TOWNSMAN the board would discuss the matter again at the end of the month. A date for the deliberation meeting has not yet been set.

According to Andover's zoning bylaws day care centers may be located in Single Residence A, B and C Districts as well as the Apartment District and in General Business, all with a special permit from the ZBA.

Hedrick, who lives at 185 Lowell St., has the ranch home under agreement with the Sheehan Realty Company, of Andover. A bank has approved a mortgage for the property contingent upon Hedrick's receipt of the special permit to operate the business in the building, Hedrick explained. The home is now owned by Compagnone Realty Trust, of Lowell.

Hedrick's daughter, Sally Norris, would live in the Lowell Street home with her husband and child, said Hedrick. State laws regulating day care licenses specify that the owner of the home must operate the day care operation. Whitney told Hedrick. Her license request is pending at the state Office for Children, said Hedrick, adding that another daughter, Nancy Simili, will work part-time in the day care center.

A Cuddle Care site plan distributed at the ZBA meeting shows a half-circle driveway in front of the home which would exit onto Wild Rose Drive. There would not be access from the property onto Lowell Street, the board was told.

Easter Sunday In Andover

With the sun shining bright and strong and a mild breeze in the air, Andover residents attended church services to celebrate with family and friends Easter Sunday morning. Photos clockwise from upper left: People fill the South Church on Sunday morning as Rev. Dr. Westy Egmont gives his sermon; Lindsay St. Jean, 11, months attends Christ Church service with her mother, Nancy St. Jean; Maria Arroyo of New York and her sister, Rachel, seven, of California leave St. Augustines after mass. They were visiting their relatives for Easter; Lillies decorate the front of the Baptist church as Rev. Reginald MacDonald gives his sermon; Frank Nigh, usher for South Church keeps Jason Day company; Richard Brown and Mike Patrakis get the lilly plants ready for delivery to area nursing homes after they were used to decorate the West Parish Church for Sunday service; Eight-year-old Shannon Salisbury of North Reading waits for her mother after Easter Service at the Free Christian Church; John Pickles, 11, of Methuen carries a plant for his grandmother, Mrs. Robert Burnham of Andover, after the Free Christian Church service.

Good Suggestion

Selectmen this week began discussing the possibility of returning to an all-day Saturday town meeting format. It is not only a good suggestion, but one which should be pursued and adopted, based on its popularity several years ago.

For many years the Saturday town meeting was almost a throwback to the original town meeting format wherein voters began working on the warrant about mid-morning, stopping for lunch at the cafeteria in the old East Junior High, then returning to finish up the business of the town in the afternoon. Later, the meeting was moved to the High School gymnasium when a myriad of major issues forecast a heavy attendance.

There was never a threat of a lack of a quorum since the interest was maintained throughout the day by properly spacing the articles in the warrant. While some persons or private interest groups left after a decision was made, others came on the scene to insure sufficient voters on hand to carry on the town's business.

On one occasion the meeting was spiced by a natural phenomenon, an eclipse of the sun. As the sun was darkened, citizens took time from municipal business to witness the event, which simply caused a lot of movement toward windows and doors to view the happening, but never failed to disrupt the Democratic process.

Persons can argue for and against either the Saturday or the continuous night format. Both, naturally, have advantages and disadvantages, the principal one being which will less disturb the normal flow of the lives of Andover's citizens.

Modern lifestyles dictate busy schedules whenever the meeting is scheduled. Television offerings and just being tired at the end of the work day can work to the detriment of night meetings.

Saturday being the only day to accomplish tasks at home, as well as the television considerations, could work against selection of the all-day plan. But the Saturday proposal, based on past performance, seems to be the best method for assuring transaction of the town's business in a single session and meeting the statutory requirements of completing the warrant. It also would seem to provide for less inconvenience to residents and municipal officials alike, who now have to plan to set aside at least three nights.

Indeed, it is a good suggestion which selectmen should adopt in planning for another year.

And, before assigning this year's annual session to historical records, let us be cognizant of the planning board's intention to produce a master plan for Central Business District expansion by the next annual town meeting.

Several downtown rezoning proposals were rejected this year based somewhat on the planners promise that the CBD would be a priority item in the year ahead.

But, it seems that promise has been made before, and the business district remains within the confines dictated by age-old zoning maps.

The time has come for attention and results anxiously awaited.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — April 1910

Brooks F. Holt discovered this morning that some time during the night a thief had visited his barn. A bay mare, an open buggy, harness, lap robe, whip — in a word a complete outfit had been stolen from the premises. The matter has been reported to the police, who are working on the case.

The E.W. Pitman Co. of Lawrence has been awarded the contract for the finely appointed building to be reared on the new Merrimack Valley Country Club grounds.

The dancing class conducted by Miss Amy Stork held their final reception on Saturday evening. The affair was very successful. The patronesses were Mrs. M.S. McCurdy, Mrs. B.M. Allen, and Mrs. J.C. Phillips, while music was furnished by the academy orchestra of 20 pieces.

Without a doubt, those of us who use bicycles have become careless in the past few years and have grown to almost entirely ignore the town By-Law making it an offense to ride bicycles on the sidewalk. Most of the offenders are young boys and girls. Many of them probably know nothing about the law which they are breaking. Wouldn't it be an excellent plan to have proper notices placed around the town as they were several years ago?

50 Years Ago — April 1935

Miss Gwen Armitage of Shawsheen Village was announced as valedictorian for the senior class at Punchard high by Principal Nathan C. Hamblin this noon. She received an average of 89.39. Miss Armitage's brother, now Second Lt. John Armitage of the U.S. Army, was valedictorian of his class at Punchard, 1929.

Residence in Andover is to be one of the deciding factors in lay-offs at the Tyer Rubber Company, an official of the company stated last night. When employees have to be laid off, he said, three things are considered: length of service, ability, and residence in Andover. Dr. Jeremiah J. Daly, local welfare head, stated that the rubber company has proved very partial to local unemployment when hiring help.

Old Man Winter reached out a hoary, very much superannuated hand Tuesday night, and with a bluster that only a dying Old Man Winter can achieve, he proved to Andover that he still had left in him a spark of that life which has made the past few months anything but pleasant. His dying gasp — at least we hope it was his dying gasp — left the town engulfed in a wet, slushy snow after a night when raw rain, sleet and snow pummelled down on an unsuspecting town with gale-like force.

25 Years Ago — April 1960

"I'm going to stay in my job until they throw me out," ousted Junior High School Principal Benjamin F. Dimlich told the Townsman this week. "I consider myself principal of the school and I wish to have the School Committee recognize it, so I can continue my program." Dimlich said he has made up his mind not to accept a post as administrative assistant, which was created by the committee and to which he was appointed at $7,400 yearly.

Two years ago four Andover women sat down to talk informally about the possibility of a daytime activity for pre-school children that could, with mothers helping, give four-year-olds a group experience. From this acorn has grown a licensed, non-profit, non-denominational cooperative nursery school of a type unique in this area, the Free Church Cooperative Pre-School.

Students from the three upper Junior High grades turned out enthusiastically last Saturday to reconstruct an area of

Seven-Lot Brown Street Plans Denied By Planners

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Concerned by plans for a steeply-sloped roadway and unconvinced that houses should be clustered on the site, the Planning Board has denied preliminary plans for a seven-lot subdivision off Brown Street.

The board Tuesday night voted unanimously (with Russ Moran absent) to disapprove preliminary plans for Equestrian Way, a 12.5-acre cluster development proposed by Coolidge Construction of North Andover.

The site is currently the Turgeon horse farm, and the Turgeons' house, barn and other buildings were to remain on a four-acre portion of the property.

Engineer Stephen Stapinski of Merrimack Engineering Services, representing the developer, said during a public hearing last month that seven lots would be clustered around one cul-de-sac at Equestrian Way.

The development would include open space that would form a link between Brown Street (which runs between Lowell Street and Bellevue Road near the Tewksbury line) and existing conservation land, the engineer said.

Stapinski said he believed six conventional (non-clustered) lots could fit on the site; a cluster, he said, would preserve more open space.

Planning Board Chairman Margaret Bradshaw said Tuesday she was most concerned about the subdivision roadway, which would follow a steep slope away from Brown Street. Climbing back up to Brown Street, the new street would exit onto a narrow part of that street that has poor sight distances, she added.

Trying to "get a fire truck down there" could amount to "a public safety hazard," Bradshaw said of the proposed roadway. "I think this is an insane place to build a house, I'll be honest," she told the engineer.

The chairman added that she saw "no reason" to allow a cluster development on the site, because the proposed open space would not be "useful to anyone."

In addition, Nancy Jeton of the Community Development and Planning staff said it might be unwise to cluster seven houses on the property, "considering the off-site impact" that drainage from the site could have on surrounding properties.

During last month's public hearing, several neighbors said they were worried that drainage from Equestrian Way might harm their property.

The board encouraged another developer to do more work on preliminary plans for a 31-lot development proposed for a "difficult" 63-acre site off Rattlesnake Hill Road and Woburn Street.

The planners voted to grant the developer, John E. DeLoury of South Main Street, a

Traffic, Parking, Master Plan Among Selectmen Goals

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Working on the twin problems of traffic and parking in three neighborhoods, developing a master plan, considering Central Business District expansion, and finding a new use for an old Town Hall are among the selectmen's goals for Andover for the coming year.

With last week's annual town meeting behind them, the selectmen Monday night shared their ideas about what they would like to accomplish before next spring's annual meeting.

Chairman William Dalton, emphasizing that his list of goals was not compiled in order of importance, said he'd like to come up with plans for:

- the use and improvement of town playing fields, as well as the acquisition of land for new fields;
- solving Ballardvale's industrial traffic problems;
- reusing the former Town Hall on Main Street;
- managing and protecting the town's watershed areas;
- solving traffic and parking problems; and
- a master plan proposal.

Adding to the chairman's list, Gerald Silverman said he'd like to work on traffic problems on River Road and in Shawsheen Village in particular, as well as in Ballardvale.

Donn Byrne and Charles Wesson said they were especially interested in completing a master plan for Andover's future growth and development, and in studying possible expansion of the downtown business district — two concerns that were heard at town meeting.

Byrne said he'd like the town to review and update its master water and sewer plans as well.

Freshman Selectman John Scileppi was absent Monday night.

The chairman said he believed it was unnecessary to assign priorities to those goals, because all of them appear "achievable" within the next year — with one exception. The decades-old Ballardvale traffic problem, Dalton said, is one the selectmen can expect to remain with them "year after year."

He added that he would like the selectmen to review the town's progress on all of their goals every two months.

Among other changes rung in by the new chairman, the board will step up its meeting schedule from two to three meetings each month. Their next meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 22, May 3, May 13, and May 20. (That plan is still subject to further discussion when Scileppi is present.)

The selectmen will also invite the chairman of one major town committee to meet with them each month.

They'll start by meeting with the Planning Board chairman later this month, then with the Conservation Commission chairman in May, and Recreation Committee chairman in June.

The selectmen hope to meet with the chairmen of the Board of Health, Building Maintenance Advisory Committee, Zoning Board of Appeals, and Memorial Hall Library trustees next fall.

Abby Robb Aids Swimmers

Andover resident Abby Robb helped the University of New Hampshire swimming team finish the season with a 7-3 record, that included a trip to the NCAA Division II Championships in Orlando, Florida, where the UNH Wildcats finished 29th out of 46 teams.

A freshman on the team, Robb swam the third place on the 200 meter freestyle relay team at the New England championships. She also finished sixth as a member of the 800 freestyle relay team and eighth with the 400 freestyle relay team.

During the season Robb took first place in the 100 meter butterfly, 200 medley relay and 200 freestyle relay teams as well as a first in the 100 meter freestyle against Springfield College.

The UNH team defeated the Universities of Vermont, Connecticut and Massachusetts as well as Northeastern University, Springfield, Smith and Keene State College.

Courts Open

The tennis courts in Andover are now open for play from dawn until dusk. Courts at Recreation Park will be lighted, beginning in May, until 10 p.m. A supervisor will be on duty during the following hours beginning June 1:

West Junior/high school - Sunday through Saturday, 7 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, 8 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

Recreation Park - Sunday through Saturday, 5 p.m. to 9:15 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, 8 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

Court costs for singles (one hour of play) $3; doubles (1½ hours of play) $4; Season Pass (Family) $45; Adult Pass $20; Junior (under 18) $15.

Season passes will be on sale at the DCS office beginning May 20. Those who own a pass will be entitled to use the tennis courts throughout the season by paying a flat fee, thereby eliminating having to pay for each use. Owners of passes will be required to sign in with the tennis monitor each time they use a court. For further information, contact the DCS office.

Junior Cheerleading Registration

Registration for the Andover Junior Football League cheerleading program will be held Saturday, April 27, at the West Junior High School gym from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Boys and girls who will be 10 years old by September 1, up to and including those who will enter eighth grade in the fall, are eligible. A birth certificate is required for new applicants. Sixty children will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Junior cheerleading was started in the fall of 1980 as an addition to the Andover Junior Football League. Each squad cheers for one of the football teams; games are played on Sundays, beginning in late September, for six consecutive weeks.

Because of more favorable weather, cheerleaders practice through May and into the first part of June two evenings a week from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

There is a small registration fee. For more information, contact Bobby-Jo Morris, 6 Russett Lane.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

The Andover Soccer Association's 1985 Spring Program got underway last weekend as some of the teams entered in the Essex County League played their first games of the season. Brief results follow:

Under 12 Division

Andover Lightning 6 - Peabody 0

Brad Cronin put Andover in the lead when he completed a penalty shot awarded for a handball. Jeff Hamilton made it 2-0 when his corner kick deflected off a defender into the net. Mike Henry closed out the scoring in the first half on a pass from Jamie Damon. Andover continued its domination in the second half. Mike Costello upped the lead to 5-0 with two tallies, the assists earned by Henry and Duncan Harris, and Henry closed out the scoring when he beat the keeper, unassisted, tallying his second goal of the lopsided contest. BOW: Brian Novelline, Ryan Cassily and Peter Denette.

Under 14 Division

Andover Buccaneers 3 - Salem 5

Salem took an early lead. Ken Gable tied it up for Andover when he made a fine shot on net midway through the first half. Salem went ahead 3-1 in the second half, but the Buccaneers pressed the attack and tied it when Tyler Vadeboncoeur beat the keeper with a fine shot and Stephen Devaney scored on a pass from Peter VanDerPot. Salem denied Andover's many attempts to take the lead and, with time running out, scored two quick goals, to win the hard-fought 5-3 victory. BOW: Vadeboncoeur and Devaney.

Andover Raiders 8 - Georgetown 0

The Raiders controlled much of the play against Georgetown, ultimately winning a decisive 8-0 victory. Andy Shea kicked in the first two goals with Chris Eggert assisting on both and Mark Angelos on the second. George Willard and Dave Miles closed out the scoring in the first half with Shea and Alex Egmont earning assists. Miles upped the score 5-0 early in the second half when Eggert passed the ball to him in front of the net. Bot Peter Caruso and Shea

(for his hat trick) scored the sixth goal when they kicked the bouncing ball simultaneously (Matt Pothier assist) and Caruso added another a few minutes later with Pothier again assisting. Miles kicked in the final goal for his hat trick on a long shot from outside the penalty area. BOW: Goalkeeper Chris Adams, who earned the shout out, Scott Clementi and Brad Reghitto.

Andover Strikers 4 - Salem Witchettes 0

The Strikers dominated the play and did not allow the competition a single shot on their net during the entire game. Nancy Abramson out Andover in the lead, unassisted. Shaleen Cassily made it 2-0 when she scored on a fine pass from Jodi Jangro. Kerry Fitzpatrick closed out the scoring in the first half on a long shot which went in over the keeper's outstretched hands. Salem held the Strikers to one more tally in the second half, kicked in by Heather Pomeroy on a pass by Cassily, resulting in a 4-0 victory. BOW: Pauline Koh, Kelley Hajj and Cheryl Kluck.

Receives Awards

Dedication

The Ipswich River Watershed Association will dedicate a new public canoe landing on the Ipswich River on Sunday, April 21, in memory of its first executive director and well-known conservationist, Sally Weatherall of Ipswich. Hartland Meadow, on the right bank of the river, directly below Salem-Beverly Water-board's gauging station in Topsfield and upstream from Route 97, is the site of "Sally's Landing." The land is owned by the Essex County Commissioners, who have given IRWA permission to establish and manage the canoe landing. The dedication, followed by a picnic lunch, will be part of a canoe trip to which the public is welcome. Participants will put in at Thunder

Bridge, Middleton, at Watershed Association, 10 a.m. and take out at n, Inc., established in Route 97, Topsfield. 1976, is an advocacy The Ipswich River group for the river.

League Champions

The Suns won the Andover Community Services Senior League Championship, defeating last year's champs, Pepsi Panthers. Coached by Andover's Les Mencis, the Suns finished their regular season with a 12-3 record, putting them in first place. In a best-of-three series, they beat the Panthers 2-0 and won the last game of the play-offs 47-40. Frank Harris and Ed High scorers were Mustangs.

than $4,000 to $5,000 per year, although the article called for a $25,000 appropriation, and would cover such repairs as grading, resurfacing, filling holes, oiling and tarring.

The selectmen and planning board recommended approval; the Finance Committee recommended disapproval, as did the League of Women Voters.

Earlier in the evening, voters approved a change in height restrictions for hotels and motels, with a 466-229 vote on Article 68.

Mahony explained that the change would allow hotels and motels to rise higher than two stories — the existing restriction — but would not allow them increased height, more rooms, or increased square footage. The goal, he said, was to preserve more open space.

Discussion of Article 71 had already begun when Diane Trombly of Brady Loop asked for a recount on Article 68. Moderator James Doherty ruled that it was too late for a recount, which, he said, should have been taken immediately after the original vote.

In parts of France, it was considered good luck to dress up a cat in ribbons and ears of corn during harvesting.

Article 71 also won two-thirds approval (as required for all zoning changes) with a 687-52 vote. That change will let developers increase the number of stories in a building within existing height limits — that is, without increasing building height or total square footage.

Town meeting quickly approved Articles 69 and 70. Planning Board Chairman Margaret Bradshaw explained that both were technical changes related to the new multiple-family housing amendment that voters had approved last Tuesday night.

Two private articles were withdrawn on the final night of the annual session.

Article 79 sought the rezoning of a Poor Street site from Apartment to Single Residence A zoning, which would have undone a 1984 town meeting vote. Condominiums are planned for that site, owned by James Barenboim of Andover.

Also withdrawn: Article 76, which would have asked the meeting to rezone a Lowell Street site from Single Residence C to General Business zoning. The planning board and selectmen had recommended disapproval of that article.

Story Hour Planned

Sara Ransom performs "Just So" stories and "Exotic Tales" at North Parish Church, North Andover, Tuesday, April 16, at 2 p.m.

Drawing on years of world travel and a lifelong fascination with mythology, Ransom of Newburyport brings an aura of personal delight and wisdom to her tales from around the world. With humor, imagery, movement and song, she inspires creative wonder in the listener. Children and adults alike are held spellbound—from three-year-old special needs kids to precocious fourth-graders—all of them stay absorbed in the performance for an hour.

This entertainment is appropriate for ages 3-12.

Workshop

"Providing Constructive Discipline" is the topic of a program to be presented Friday, April 12, at Lawrence General Hospital from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Dr. Edward Jones of Management Training Consultants, Wakefield, R.I., will explain why employee discipline is necessary when particular individuals may be unmotivated or unhappy on the job. Participants will learn how to apply disciplinary action while remaining helpful and supportive of employees.

Six contact hours are available for registered nurses. The workshop is open to the public.

Save 20% on your heating bill. Cut out the oil man.

Natural gas is the clean, dependable, energy-efficient way to heat your home. And now is the perfect time to take advantage of the Bay State Gas conversion program and start saving money on your annual heating bill.

If you already have gas, we'll convert you to gas heat—FREE.

It typically takes just a few hours for us to remove your oil burner and install an efficient gas burner. There's nothing to buy. No installation charge, in most cases. We'll even service it free of charge, too. All you pay is $5.95 (plus tax) a month to rent the gas burner in addition to the cost of the gas you use. And your rental payments don't start until January, 1986.

If you don't have gas, we'll put in a gas line—FREE.

When you decide to take advantage of our heating conversion program, we'll install a gas line at no charge, in most cases. So you can start enjoying the benefits of gas heat.

Teachers Awarded Tenure

Seven Andover teachers were unanimously voted tenure at Tuesday night's School Committee meeting.

The same were not given tenure because enrollment and budget figures are not firmed up enough to be able to make commitments for the coming year, explained Assistant Superintendent Leslie Loomis.

The unanimous tenure vote gives full staff privileges to Patricia Barrett, a high school health teacher; Stephen Heimlick, instrumental music teacher; Gwen Meins, who teaches a perceptually handicapped class at Doherty Junior High; Grace Pettoruto, a learning disability teacher at West Elementary; Mary Pitochelli, a learning disability teacher at the high school; Josephine Walker, an elementary music teacher; and Janet Wolbarst, an art teacher at West Junior High.

In order to receive tenure in the Andover school system teacher must have taught here for three years. Some of those who received tenure on Tuesday have been in the system a lot longer, working, for example, as permanent substitutes. One benefit of tenure for staff members is that they cannot be dismissed as easily as those without tenure, explained Andover Education Association President Steve Jankauskas.

The School Committee must make tenure decisions and reappoint teachers, who have not yet qualified for tenure, by April 15 or they are automatically appointed for the next school year.

The staff members not appointed for tenure include Mary Ellen Dahlstrandt, Karen Foose, Geraldine Girgenti, Patricia Korandanis; Paul LaVecchio, Barbara Nicholson and Michael Marcoux. School Committee member Michael R. Giammusso asked to discuss Marcoux position, at a future meeting if federal funding for the position does not come through for the next school year.

Loomis said the non-tenure of the seven staff members was not a reflection of their personal performances but rather done because it is "too early in the spring to make all the decisions for secondary school staffing. In most cases their performance has been very positive," added Loomis.

Appointed unanimously to their third year of teaching were: Theresa Palardy, Ramona Pappalardo, Steven Piermarini, Paul Ragnio, Karen Sayward, Winifred Schwartz, Irene Velonis and Michael Wartman.

Unanimously appointed to their second year of teaching were: Carol Abdoo, Alice Flynn, Jerilyn Parla Garofolo, Marc Keroack, Paula Knight, Robert Lague, Stefani Marmer, Clarissa McDermott, Stephanie Morgan, Susan Muller-Hershon, Margaret Orlando, Holly Plamondon, Kathleen St. Amand, Beth Shiff and Kathy Stewart.

Administrators Iora Alexander and Richard Bourdelais were reappointed to their second years in the system.

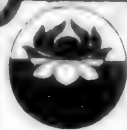

The committee also voted not to reappoint the following permanent substitutes: Nina Alexander, Mary Kate Allard, Elizabeth Boynton, Bethanne Crowder, Karen D'Onofrio, Nancy Griffin, Janet Krabec, Nina Lasch, Maria Meyer, Ellen Mokler, Gayle Pinkowski, Judith Pilunek, Linda Saalfrank and Elizabeth Torosian.

Resignations from Margaret Hughes, an instructional aide, and Lynda Isaacs, a high school German teacher, were accepted by the committee on Tuesday. Both women were on personal leaves of absence for this school year.

A personal leave of absence was approved for Celeste DiFruscia, a special needs instructional aide at Doherty Junior High. And Carol Hurley, of North Andover, was appointed a permanent substitute special needs teacher at West Elementary at a salary based on an annual income of $16,142 a year. She will work through June.

To hope is to enjoy.

DID YOU GROW UP WITH AN ALCOHOLIC PARENT?

THEN you might have lingering difficulties affecting your adult life, happiness and effectiveness. Adult children of alcoholics are now recognized as a distinct group who may have to cope with such problems as:

- Dealing with anger
- Trusting
- Building intimate relationships
- Needing approval
- Recognizing feelings
- Coping on the job
- Alcohol and substance abuse

YOU are not alone. There are currently about 16-18 million adults in America who grew up with one or both parents who were alcoholics or alcohol abusers.

AT the Somers Trust Psychological Associates, we are forming a second group for adult children of alcoholic parents to address their needs and to explore new strategies for life enrichment.

THE GROUP will begin on Monday April 22, 1985 and will be held each Monday evening from 7:30 P.M. to 9:00 P.M.

THE SOMERS TRUST Psychological Associates are located at the Willows Professional Park, 789 Turnpike Street (Rte. 114) in North Andover, Mass.

one-month extension on the board's April 10 deadline for the proposed subdivision, Mill Dam Estates.

Bradshaw called the parcel "a difficult site" with "many problems." During the next month, she said, the developer should work with the planning staff on a number of questions, "to save you a possible denial at the definitive stage."

Mill Dam Estates would consist of one main roadway linking Rattlesnake Hill Road and Woburn Street, according to engineer Paul Ferrante of Dana F. Perkins Associates, with two small cul-de-sacs off the new road. Drainage from the site would run toward a large wetlands area.

Planner Michael Houghton said his concerns about the subdivision included the potential for traffic problems on Rattlesnake Hill Road, drainage, earth removal and regrading, and the "less than desirable" design of several lots.

He also questioned the development's effect on the nearby wetlands — particularly since there is some question about debris buried on the property, a one-time piggery.

Paul Curley said he'd like to see the developer "straighten out" Rattlesnake Hill Road near its intersection with the new roadway, while Bradshaw suggested that DeLoury delay submitting his preliminary plan until after the town has finished re-mapping wetlands boundaries.

David Brown of Glenwood Road called preliminary plans for Mill Dam Estates "a bad dream. This is awful."

Brown said the proposed roadway would exit onto "an extremely treacherous section" of Rattlesnake Hill Road, and would add a lot of new traffic to that narrow street.

He also called it "ridiculous" that the plans called for removing a knoll on the site to make way for the subdivision roadway, rather than letting the road go around the knoll.

addition, a parking area for ten cars would be positioned inside the half-circle driveway.

Hedrick plans to have a maximum of 47 children, aged 2 years and nine months and older, in day care at any one time. That would mean that over the course of a 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. day, the center's proposed hours, more than 47 children would be brought and picked up at the center.

"I don't really think the amount of traffic I would be generating would be that significant," Hedrick told the board on Thursday evening.

But her opinion was countered by the Wild Rose area residents who said their neighborhood would have more cars driving through, drivers would use their property to park and turn around, and the additional traffic would make it more difficult to exit from Wild Rose Drive onto Lowell Street. In addition, some of those at the meeting said a day care center would not improve the appearance of the neighborhood.

"This is grossly unfair," Virginia Leslie said of the proposed business. The 10 Wild Rose Drive resident said she had to tell visitors to "turn at the burned out house. Now I'll have to say turn in at the day care center."

"The yard wouldn't be an advantage to the neighborhood with all the play equipment," said Pearl Burton, 101 Wild Rose Drive, who added that the children at the center would ruin the lawn there. Her husband, Mark Burton, said the children would constitute a "noise pollution problem."

Hedrick disagreed with charges that her business would detract from the neighborhood, saying "A few swings and sandboxes aren't going to be that detrimental."

Exhibit

"Paintings Through Glass Houses," an exhibition of paintings by Boston artist Tamara Elizabeth Krendel, will be on view at the Hunnewell Visitors Center of the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University in Jamaica Plain from April 19 through August 30.

Festival

The Arnold Arboretum will celebrate Arbor Day with a series of activities on Saturday, April 27, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Rhododendrons, azaleas, herbs, begonias and houseplants will be on sale. Anyone who becomes a member on Arbor Day will receive a free plant.

The Woodbine Consort will present a program entitled "Songs and Dance Music for an Entertainment in Colonial America" in the Visitor Center.

tham company will return to GSF.

There is also a question about who owns the building that was home to GSF for ten years. Penny says Norwell attorney, Robert Haufler, owns the ten-acre site but Haufler told THE TOWNSMAN that the building was owned by 44 Lowell Junction Road Realty Inc., and refused to disclose the principals of that company.

"He (Haufler) is the owner," said Penny. "He has confirmed in many meetings and conversations that he is the owner of the property and will take responsibility for what has to be done."

Haufler said Andover resident Joseph Ippolito was the president of the bankrupt GSF company and Morton Owen, of Milton, was the treasurer. Both men did not return calls to THE TOWNSMAN before presstime.

Kevin Franklin, from the Wrentham company, told THE TOWNSMAN that Haufler was getting his finances in order to pay for Franklin's service. Yesterday Franklin said he was assured by Haufler that tomorrow he would receive an irrevocable letter of credit from Haufler's bank to assure he will be paid for the clean-up. If he receives the notice today, said Franklin, he will return to work on the site on Monday. He estimated that it will take ten days to finish cleaning GSF.

The clean-up of GSF will cost over $100,000, estimated Haufler, a cost confirmed by Franklin. Haufler said he intends to ready the site for new tenants he hopes will be in the plant by May 1. He refused to say who might move into the building, adding that he was negotiating with several potential tenants.

Penny told THE TOWNSMAN that Haufler has to foot the bill for the damages, whether he likes it or not.

"If he (Haufler) balks, then DEQE has the power to step in and clean (the sites) with their own contractor and put a lien on the property for damages," said Penny. "They'll do it if he doesn't do it himself."

The town health director also doubted whether a new tenant would be in the Lowell Junction building by next month.

Haufler has to have the soil and groundwater near the plant analyzed to make sure the area is safe before leasing the building to another company, Penny said.

According to Haufler there weren't any dangerous materials used by GSF, with the exception of something he called PVC.

"The materials in there aren't that hazardous," he said, adding that "most of the material is salvagable. It is not what you would call toxic wastes."

But Penny clearly disagrees with Haufler's assessment of the chemicals inside the plant. He pointed out that PVC is a type of plastic pipe, something which is not at GSF. And added that Haufler probably just doesn't know what is in the plant.

A North Carolina plant has purchased GSF's foam-making equipment and is dismantling the machinery to take to their southern plant, Penny said. But he has stopped work at GSF by workers from the North Carolina company until Franklin Pumping personnel returns to the site. As the machines are taken apart chemicals inside some of the parts have to be drained, something Penny said he didn't want done on the site without supervision.

When the Andover Fire Department first discovered the lack of safety procedures and the chemical wastes at GSF late last fall, the 143,000 square foot building was far from safe. A Nov. 4, 1984

Andover Fire Department report found conditions "not that great," said Deputy Harold Hayes.

The November report cites the building for a lack of heat and empty oil tanks. With the cold weather on its way the Fire Department officials were worried that the sprinkler system would freeze without heat in the building. They also noted the lack of a 24-hour guard on the premises and abandoned bales of foam, which Hayes said produce toxic fumes when burned, were found around the plant. As a result the department notified Richard Larkin, of the Chase Commercial Bank, in Boston, who they were told was in charge of the building, that a general cleanup was in order.

The department also requested a test of the GSF alarm system, something company officials hadn't done for a year, said Hayes. He said the November report says the department was told that the Colonial Security Alarm Company, of New Hampshire, would notify the Fire Department in case of problems at the plant. But when fire officials called Colonial they found the company wasn't providing coverage for GSF.

Hayes said that the Fire Department file on GSF indicates that the DEQE received an anonymous call about the Lowell Junction building.

The state agency did inspect the building in December of 1984, according to the Fire Department, and were not told then that the company had filed for bankruptcy or was liquidating their assets.

Deputy Hayes said the next contact his department had with GSF came Dec. 11 when the security company called an alarm into the station, alerting them to trouble in the alarm system.

"We think someone was in there cutting lines and probably set the alarm off," said Hayes. "But we haven't been able to prove it."

Twelve days later, on Dec. 23, when fire officials attempted to check whether the company had put the safety systems back in place, as outlined in their November report, they found auction notices posted on the door and area contractors looking over GSF equipment. But, Hayes said, the heat was on in the building and a 24-hour security guard had been hired to patrol the area. The telephone alarm had been re-connected, too, he added.

The bank was to finish the liquidation the next day, Penny said. But, when the Andover health officer tried to contact Chase Commercial by phone, they hung up on him, he said.

"The bank got off scott-free," Penny said. "They just washed their hands on that."

Penny then stopped the work at the GSF site until the DEQE could be consulted about the situation.

Actuaries

In mid-18th century England, James Dodson applied to the Old Amicable society for an early form of life insurance. The society collected dues from members, and then paid out benefits when one died to his beneficiaries—the amount of benefits determined by the number of dues-payers and by how many other members died that year.

Dodson was rejected because he was too old: 46. He did more than complain. Being a mathematician and recognizing that insurance should be provided from a sound mathematical basis, he worked out a scheme for a permanent life insurance plan, complete with outlines for determining payments in and out of the plan. Thus was born life insurance, essentially as we know it today, and also its mathematical basis: actuarial science.

cial than residential."

The attorney did not describe specific plans for the Morins' 85-year-old house and barn, but said there was room for on-site parking on their parcel.

The selectmen joined the planning board in recommending disapproval of Article 74.

After voters had spent more than 90 minutes discussing and defeating the Elm Street, Punchard Avenue and Park Street articles, Atty. Peter Caruso withdrew Article 75 from the meeting's consideration.

That article would have asked voters to rezone 12 Bartlet St., owned by Marion Colgate, from SRA to GB. The real estate firm of J.B. Doherty Associates, located across the street from Colgate's house, had hoped to buy the site and remodel it into offices.

Representing Colgate and J. B. and Chris Doherty, Atty. Caruso said he looked forward to discussing the planning board's CBD proposals at 1986 annual town meeting.

House Move Tabled

Residents of River Road and Chandler Road may want to keep their eyes open for a house on the move some time soon, the Board of Selectmen indicated Monday night.

The board has tabled a request to have been informed of the proposed moving.

Waiter Belisle of 242 Chandler Road would like to move a house from 159 River Road to a vacant lot east of 242 Chandler Road. The house would travel six-tenths of a mile west along River Road to Chandler Road, then four-tenths of a mile east along Chandler Road to its new site.

In a memo to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, Parks and Grounds Superintendent James Bamford explained that branches would have to be removed from several privately-owned trees — with the owners' permission — to make way for the house.

Branches on some town-owned roadside trees would have to be pruned as well, and two small oaks would have to be completely removed, Bamford wrote.

Belisle and for repairing any damages along the way, the superintendent added.

The selectmen voted to table Belisle's request after Mahony said he did not know whether townspeople who live along the River Road/Chandler Road route had been notified of the house moving. Chairman William Dalton said he did not want to vote on the matter before those residents had heard about the move.

Belisle and his moving contractor were scheduled to meet with Bamford and utility company representatives on Tuesday afternoon at the Lowell Street water treatment plant.

for loan and seeds, gifts of trees and plants have been received, and the manpower was happily donated by students under the direction of Guidance Counselor William Hart.

10 Years Ago — April 1975

Bells on Andover's churches, schools and civic places will be rung 41 times Saturday noon to memorialize the number of colonists killed in the opening shots of the American Revolution. The request was made of the churches and schools by the Andover Bicentennial Committee and it is believed that other towns in the area will join in the Andover memorial observance.

When town meeting of a week ago approved continued train service for Andover, apparently everyone got aboard the first commuter special out of town. Thus it remained for those with a long and solid interest in Andover — a block of senior citizens — to insure that the town's business would be transacted when the annual session reconvened Tuesday night after adjourning without a quorum on Monday night.

Leo F. Griffin, 268 River Road, was named to the Finance Committee at the final session of town meeting Tuesday night by Moderator William Dalton. Griffin will replace Atty. John C. Doherty who declined reappointment to another three year term.

Park Sign Approved

With the selectmen's permission, Doctor's Park will erect a temporary sign in Shawsheen Square advertising its new walk-in medical center, which is scheduled to open in June.

The unlighted sign, four feet wide and five feet high, will be erected at the corner of Haverhill Street and Route 28 (North Main Street) to announce the opening of the new medical center at Doctor's Park, 140 Haverhill St.

Maureen Guglielmino, representing Doctor's Park, told the selectmen Monday night that the walk-in medical center will be part of a new 30,000-square foot complex located directly behind the existing doctors' office complex on Haverhill Street.

The center will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., she said, for the treatment of minor illnesses and injuries, so that local residents can avoid using hospital emergency rooms whenever possible. Guglielmino said the center would probably serve 50 to 55 patients each day.

The selectmen voted unanimously (with John Scileppi absent) to approve the temporary sign, which will be erected during May and remain at the corner of Haverhill and North Main streets for approximately 90 days.

Expressway Limited

The Massachusetts Department of Public works advised motorists who use the Southeast Expressway that special traffic restrictions, including a speed reduction to 40 miles per hour, will be in effect during Stage II of expressway reconstruction.

Police details will enforce this speed restriction, which will remain in effect until reconstruction work is completed this fall.

Northbound traffic entering the Southeast Expressway from the Quincy Adams MBTA station entrance ramp will only be able to enter the local lanes. Signs have been posted notifying motorists of this restriction and a state police detail will be stationed at the merge of Route 128, Route 3 and the entrance ramp.

From Monday through Friday, the express lanes will be open for northbound traffic between 5 a.m. and 12 noon. The lanes will be closed, cleared and reopened for southbound traffic at 1 p.m. until 5 a.m., the following morning.

On weekends, the express lanes for southbound traffic will be open from 1 p.m. Friday until 5 a.m. Sunday. The express lanes will then be open for northbound traffic from 5 a.m. Sunday until 12 noon Monday. Motorists are advised that the reversible lanes may be closed between 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. for reconstruction-related activities.

Juveniles To Face Charges

The trial begins on Wednesday, May 15, for six juvenile Andover boys who confessed to vandalizing the Doherty Junior High School on March 1.

At their April 3 arraignment, in a juvenile session at Lawrence District Court the boys pleaded non-delinquent, said Assistant District Attorney Patricia Dowling, who will prosecute the case.

She explained that the non-delinquent plea, is, in essence, a plea of not guilty.

"The burden is always on the Commonwealth to prove the case beyond a reasonable doubt," Dowling said.

The boys, aged 15 and 16, were charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime with intent to commit a felony, malicious destruction over $100 and sounding a false fire alarm.

Some $800 to $1,000 in damages resulted from the break at the Bartlett Street school as the teens ransacked two classrooms, a teacher's desk, smashed a display case and two interior windows, set off fire extinguishers and scribbled graffiti on a blackboard.

The Andover school system has not punished the youths. They are awaiting the outcome of the trial.

Northern Essex Community College is accepting applications for its dental assistant and licensed practical nurse program.

The Dental Assistant Program is a two-semester, 36-credit-hour Day Division program and is accredited by the Commission on Dental Accreditation of the American Dental Association.

Ten weeks of practical experience is provided in area dental offices. Students who complete the program and successfully pass the Certification for Dental Assistants Examination become Certified Dental Assistants.

The Licensed Practical Nurse Program provides students with the theory and skills needed to function as competent entry-level graduate practical nurses. It is 40 weeks long, divided into three semesters, and 41 credit hours of work are required for completion.

Hop to it.

Docket No. 85P0823-E1

Estate of Rachel E. Douglass late of Andover in the County of Essex.

NOTICE

A petition has been presented in the above-captioned matter praying that a certain instrument be probated purporting to be the last will of said deceased by Alan B. Douglass of Andover in the County of Essex, praying that they be appointed executors thereof, without giving a surety on their bond.

If you desire to object to the allowance of said petition, you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Salem on or before 10:00 in the forenoon on May 6, 1985.

In addition you should file a written statement of objections to the petition, giving specific grounds therefore, within thirty(30) days after the return day (or such other time as the Court, on motion with notice to the petitioner, may allow) in accordance with Probate Rule 2A.

Witness, Albert P. Petronio, Esquire, First Justice of said Court at Salem, the third day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighty five.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Clark Chrysler Plymouth: Three Generations of Pride

Clark Chrysler Plymouth has served the Merrimack valley for years. In fact, the present owner, Tom Barenboim, represents the third generation of his family to captain the business.

The key to Clark's success, according to general manager Gene Shea, lies in loyalty—both from customers and staff.

Customer loyalty: "We strive for customer satisfaction," says Shea. "We're proud of our loyal following; we're here to keep it and add to it." The first step in doing so is to offer a product that both the seller and the buyer can believe in—the Chrysler product. "It seems to me that more people are stepping into Chrysler products who've never owned them before," says Shea. "It's the fuel economy, the price, the front-wheel drive advantage. Our sales have been exceeding our expectations. The demand is great; the product is great."

The variety, too, has never been greater. Today's customer can choose from sports cars such as the Plymouth Turismo; he or she can pick a subcompact Horizon. There are cars for families—such as the Reliant wagon, or the 7-passenger Voyager van. For the businessman, there's the elegant Chrysler 5th Avenue, pictured above, which carries a heavy load of luxury "options" that come standard. There are convertibles and sedans and much more; the kind of variety you have to drive before you can decide which car's for you.

And Clark Chrysler Plymouth boasts staff loyalty. Its national ly-recognized service department is staffed with factory-trained technicians who, according to Shea, average about sixteen years with the company. Service with pride is their specialty.

Clark Chrysler Plymouth also has a lot full of used cars of all descriptions. The company offers leasing—all makes and models, from Jaguars to Chryslers to Cadillacs. There are also daily weekly and monthly rentals. "With all our services," says Gene Shea, "we want to give the personal touch that brings customer satisfaction."

Gallery Upholstering And Interior Decorating

Give your furniture new life! If re-decorating is your way of chasing away the winter blues, don't replace that old sofa or chair with expensive new ones. Call Bob Silveira at Gallery Upholstering and Interior Decorating at 689-0454 for a free estimate and a no obligations appointment about reupholstering your furniture.

A professional, top quality reupholstering can give your furniture the new look for which you've been looking as well as extend your furniture's life. Choose from a host of popular colors in the latest fabrics in such a variety of combinations that there is sure to be something to match your decor.

Many of the finest homes, businesses and restaurants in the North Shore area have come to depend upon the courteous, professional service available from Gallery Upholstering's nine skilled craftsmen. Gallery Upholstering also does commercial and institutional decorating bids and specializes in fire estimates as well as evaluations of any damage suffered in moving furniture.

Bob Silveira believes in the quality of older furniture. "Most new furniture lacks the structural quality that makes older pieces last and last."

And Bob maintains that quality by hand cutting, hand stitching and hand matching patterns to produce a better quality piece than furniture which is manufactured by piece work on a machine.

With many years of experience, Mr. Silveira makes it his business to produce top quality reupholstering. He started in the upholstery business at the age of 13 and then continued his education at Lowell Technical Institute where he learned about fabrics and fiber construction. After majoring in interior design at the Pratt Institute of Design in New York, Bob became a decorator and consultant for the Guichrist Department Store in Boston. He opened Gallery Upholstering after spending 12 years in association with Prep Upholstering. Now he puts all those years of experience to work for you.

When you're ready to give your furniture (or entire room) a new look, call the professionals. Call Gallery Upholstering for a convenient, no obligation appointment at 689-0454.

King's Subs Require a Special Approach

As a public service, we would like to give the following instructions for enjoying a sub sandwich from King's Subs of 11 Bartlett St., Andover:

1. Be Hungry (capital H fully intended). When King's claims to pack a meal in every sub, they're not flinging pasta. Even small subs at King's are tummy-filling. (The customer is also cautioned to wear tight clothing at his own risk.)
2. Prepare your tastebuds for the King's Zing. Owners Tom and John Georges aren't afraid of spices—in both the filling and the sauce. The right spices. All of which can create a dangerously pleasant overload on unprepared taste buds.
3. Grab plenty of napkins.

Eating a King's sub can be hazardous for the nasty-neat customer. King's believes in giving you lots of filling and oodles of sauce for your hard-earned money. Is it fair to ask a roll to hold it all together without help from your fingers?

4. Be decisive. There are nearly 40 sandwiches on the menu; most come in two sizes. There are 13 pizza types (not counting combinations you invent yourself). There are Greek specialties—salads, shish-kabobs cooked over charcoal fire, meat or spinach pie, Mrs. Georges' home-made baklava. Seafood plates. Pasta. Fries and rings. In short, if you don't go in with a firm purpose in mind, you are in grave danger of being overwhelmed.

5. Make sure your smiling muscles are in shape. The surroundings are pleasant—whether you're staying for a business lunch or dinner with the family, or just dashing in for a take-out—and the people treat you great. And with hours from 11 to 9 seven days a week, the convenience is certainly something to smile about.

6. Call 470-1850 for faster service. Not that the service isn't fast as it is—but with food like this, why wait an extra minute if you don't have to?

—S.K.O'Neill

CONDO AS INVESTMENT

Condominium living is with us to stay. It is a way of life for a large segment of our population. A lot of money has been made in the turn-over of condominiums.

A well selected condo can make an excellent real estate investment, offering the benefits of appreciation, cash flow and tax sheltering. The beauty of the condominium ownership format appeals to many investors without the time, expertise or inclination toward property management. Professional on-site management is usually available.

As an investor, you will wish to acquire a unit or units which offer the most general appeal for rental and re-sale purposes. The advice of a local Realtor would be helpful in this regard.

By far, the largest profit in the shortest time is usually made when the unit is purchased during the early stages of building and development. There is more risk, however, an early investment decision will often result in a lower purchase price. Unit prices tend to rise as more sales are made and the project matures.

SELLING YOUR HOUSE

By Lou Patracone

CREATIVE FINANCING

Helping the buyer buy with advantageous loans - called creative financing - has been an important part of the real estate picture in recent years, especially when mortgage money was tight or rates extra-high. Small wonder that the Internal Revenue Service has gotten involved.

Under current regulations, sellers offering financing must charge buyers at least 9 percent interest, or the IRS will impute a 10 percent rate, and assume that the seller is making that much on his investment. Current rules are expected to stand pat at least until July 1, but changes are possible after that.

If you're planning to sell, it might be wise to sell NOW, while these regulations hold. We don't know what will come later when tax laws are overhauled.

To sell promptly, with minimal delays and problems, take advantage of the knowhow and experience of our real estate professionals. You'll get expert marketing service and up-to-the-minute information when you list with —

All Day Saturday Annual Town Meetings Considered

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A question for all those voters who toughed it out during three long-running town meeting sessions last week: Are you ready for an all-day Saturday meeting instead?

Andover's annual town meeting used to convene on a Saturday morning and run all day long, adjourning to the following Monday night if necessary. Selectmen Chairman William Dalton this Monday night said he'd like the town to consider returning to that format.

Those Saturday sessions of yore were "well-attended, fun, business-type meetings," Dalton said. Reviving that tradition, he added, would make for town meetings that "would be a heck of a lot more fun."

Selectman Donn Byrne agreed that day-long meetings would be "more pleasant and less grueling" than the three nights of three- to four-hour sessions that voters endured last week.

(He added that town meeting evenings should be adjourned no later than 10 p.m., even if it means a four-night meeting.)

Gerald Silverman said Saturdays were a bad time for town meetings because many townspeople work or shop on that day. But Dalton said the board would "discuss the idea further at some point," possibly after surveying voters for their opinion on Saturday meetings.

In a postscript to the 1985 meeting, Dalton said he was "disappointed" that Article 80, town officials' plan for a Balmoral Street parking lot, was defeated. (Please see story elsewhere in today's TOWNSMAN.)

The chairman maintained that the article might have been turned down because it was placed so close to the end of the 82-article warrant. Articles that come up for discussion late in the evening are usually doomed to failure, he said.

Dalton said he was "also disappointed" that the Friends of Shawsheen neighborhood group opposed the article, which the selectmen believed would help solve parking problems in Shawsheen Square.

Selectmen Silverman and Charles Wesson — both of Shawsheen — disagreed. Wesson said the board may be to blame for Article 80's defeat, because they did a "poor job" of publicizing their parking plan.

In any case, the chairman said he would vote to bring the 65-car parking lot proposal back to voters at the next town meeting.

Brush Fires Consume Acreage

A combination of carelessness and arson has touched off a number of brush fires in Andover in the last few weeks, two of which had firefighters busy this past weekend.

On Friday night all the town's firefighters were called to Sunset Rock Road when a fire in woodlands near Alderbrook Road threatened nearby homes. The blaze, which began at 9:20 p.m., raged for four and a half hours as 26 Andover firemen and firefighters from North Reading and North Andover answered the multiple alarms.

The official cause of the fire is suspected arson, listed on the fire report as "persons unknown," said Deputy Fire Chief

Robert Boush, adding that the fire was spread over several acres of land.

A lack of rain in this dry spring has contributed to the more than normal number of brush fires. And Andover has been responding to mutual aid calls as often as the department has had to call for help, Boush said.

The second blaze of the weekend occurred on Sunday, at 1:23 p.m., in a wooded area behind Merrimack College's Monican Center. Also thought to be started, the fire lasted for just over three hours as three Andover engines and North Andover trucks battled the blaze.
